Arctic Ocean Yields Rich Lead Vein

Millions of dollars worth of almost pure lead were uncovered many miles inside the Arctic Circle recently when Matt Berry, right, veteran Edmonton bush-pilot-turned contractor staked a rich claim on behalf of Gateway Gold Ltd. of Edmonton. George Midgley, a veteran of 15 years mining in the north, helps Berry stake discovery post.

This 18-year-old photograph guided Matt Berry to the lonely shores of Detention Harbor, high up in the Arctic Circle, where this rich Galena deposit was first uncovered by Berry and his deceased mining engineer chum Jim Hall of Toronto. Hall, shown pointing out the deposit, was killed in a mining accident in the Phillipines shortly after.

Rich Galena ore, assaying more than 85 per cent pure lead was result as Berry and party blasted loose a few samples of Arctic lodestone. Here from left pilot Mush Sharun, Matt Berry and Charles MacFarlane examine rich pieces of ore taken from the Detention Harbor strike. Vein is reputedly worth millions to its owners, Gateway Gold of Edmonton.

Tax Rate For Year 49.5 Mills

Expenditures Of $7,732,226 Are Approved

Edmonton's 1949 tax rate was set last night at 49½ mills by unanimous vote of city council.

Expenditures totalling $7,732,226 were approved by aldermen. This is $668,403 in excess of the $7,063,823 expended in 1948.

SMALL SURPLUS

While the balance sheet for 1948 operations is not yet available it is learned there was a surplus of approximately $1,000 on the year's operations.

Revenue anticipated this year will exactly balance the proposed expenditures.

Total of $3,090,101 will be expended by the various civic departments. Miscellaneous expenditures will amount to $331,715, grants to hospitals and charitable organizations and donations will coat $85,443, and operation of the Royal Alexandra Hospital, $149,480.

Debenture interest and redemption charges for 1949 amount to $1,000,130.

EDUCATION COSTS

Education costs are estimated at $3,778,978 of which $2,415,447 is for public schools and $373,531 for separate schools.

These costs have increased by approximately $500,000 over the 1948 expenditures.

Large growth in school population is given as the reason for the increase coupled with heavy expenditures in rehabilitation of school premises.

Library board expenditures for this year are fixed at $116,076, a considerable increase over the 1948 figure.

Total of $4,895,330 revenue is expected from the application of the mill rate to the $99,724,905 assessment. This assessment figure is approximately $10,000,000 greater than the 1948 total.

City Firm Stakes Arctic Deposits

The never-ending demand for metal wealth has stretched its greedy claws far into Canada's northland.

And faraway, on the shores of the Arctic Ocean, an Edmonton mining company has won a race with the staking of one of the richest known lead ore deposits on this continent, a stake in this metal-hungry world that could be worth millions of dollars to its owners.

High up in the land of the midnight sun that is Canada's Arctic, Gateway Gold Limited of Edmonton, gambling on the remarkable memory of a famous Canadian bush-pilot, three postcard-size photographs taken 18 years ago, and a 20-year old Fairchild aircraft, have won a thrilling face to the north to stake one of the continent's richest lead veins.

The total value of the ore deposit has not yet been established beyond the fact that at present market prices, and based on the exceptional 85 per cent lead assay, the mineable Galena vein contains $275 worth of lead per ton.

In comparison, Canada's richest gold mine average $40 worth of gold per ton of ore.

Yet it cost Gateway Gold only $1,000 to stake this wealthy claim.

And the trick was done, in a cloak of secrecy, just a few days prior to the federal government announcement that Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. (a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Railway industrial empire) and American Metals of Canada Ltd. had been given exclusive rights to explore the Great Slave Lake area for lead and zinc.

But only after promising to spend millions of dollars in exploration and development.

Starts 18 Years Ago

This whole story really had its beginning 18 years ago when Matt Berry, just 10 years back from overseas as a Royal Flying Corps pilot, was plying the northland as a commercial pilot with Northern Aerial Mining Exploration company, engaged in flying prospectors through the rigorous northlands in the endless quest for riches.

But it was more recently brought to light with a news release to the effect that world powers were beginning a 10-year stock-piling plan for base metals, including lead.

As Berry read of this metal stock-piling plan his memory flew back 18 years as he recalled an almost forgotten trip he had made into the Canadian Arctic.

Accompanied by Jim Hall of Toronto, a mining-engineer friend, and being 18 years ago when Matt Berry, just 10 years back from overseas as a Royal Flying Corps pilot, was plying the northland as a commercial pilot with Northern Aerial Mining Exploration company, engaged in flying prospectors through the rigorous northlands in the endless quest for riches.

But it was more recently brought to light with a news release to the effect that world powers were beginning a 10-year stock-piling plan for base metals, including lead.

As Berry read of this metal stock-piling plan his memory flew back 18 years as he recalled an almost forgotten trip he had made into the Canadian Arctic.

Accompanied by Jim Hall of Toronto, a mining-engineer, friend, being employee of Northern Aerial Mining Exploration, Berry set down his tiny aircraft on the shores of Detention Harbor some 18 years ago, after a gruelling flight into the north.

As the pair basked in the heat of the summer Arctic sun, they were momentarily blinded.

Not by the sun itself, but by the glittering rays cast by a solid mineral vein that was being kissed by the at-last-ice-free waters of Coronation Gulf. In that country summer lasts only about seven weeks.

Curious as always, the pair taxied their aircraft to shore for a vantage-point view of this mineral mass.

And just lead it was.

"Too bad it's not worth something," the pair agreed.

Drug on Market Then

At that time lead was almost a drug on the mining market, selling for something like three cents a pound.

"You know, someday maybe this stuff will be worth something if only someone can find a way to get it out of this godforsaken place," Hall opined.

It's too bad Jim Hall is not alive today.

Jim was killed a few years later when he fell down a mining shaft in the Philippine Islands.

But yet his prophecy is on the verge of becoming fact.

Lead today is definitely worth something.

Something like 17½ cents a pound, as a matter of fact, as the world scrambles in the race for base metals.

But as the pair sat on the hard, granite-like rock on the shores of Detention Harbor, 136 miles straight north and east of Coppermine, drinking in the warmth of the Arctic sun, they took photographs for their memoirs.

But little did they realise the significance these photos would one day have.

At Berry sat in his home last January, reading of this ever-increasing demand for lead, which is now used as a shield for uranium, he lapsed into brief reverie.

Like a shot Matt was out of his easy chair, his paper hurled across the room, and into his desk and old scrapbooks where he dug out three old photos.

And from there Berry was uncontainable.

But he still wanted advice and moral support.

So off he went to his longtime friend and mining engineer Duncan Campbell, managing director of Gateway Gold in Edmonton.

Tossing the photos on Campbell's desk Berry said:

"Can you mine a vein of lead, four feet thick, as a decent profit?"

"How far does it run?" was Campbell's parry.

"About two hundred feet inland and under the water as far as the eye can see," Berry said.

And then Berry told the 18-year-old story.

Would Campbell be willing to gamble on financing a quick trip back to the Arctic for Berry to stake the claim for Gateway Gold and retain a ten per cent interest?

Willing to Gamble

Always a ready gambler, Campbell agreed.

And so as the early morning sun burned off the last trace of overnight frost from the runways at Edmonton's municipal airport on March 3, Matt Berry, George Midgley, a veteran northern mining engineer, this reporter and bush-pilot Walter Bland of the Edmonton Bulletin boarded a Canadian Pacific Airline DC3 and the first leg of a death defying dash to the Arctic.

From Edmonton we are bound for Fort Smith, just across the border into the North West Territories, where we are to pick up our charter aircraft, a brand new De-Havilland Beaver.

But our arrival at Fort Smith,

Newfoundland Welcomed Into Canadian Nation

OTTAWA, April 1.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today welcomed Newfoundland into Confederation as a "full and equal" partner with the older provinces to share with the rest of Canada "in the work and in the wealth of a nation."

"Together," he told the new Canadians, "we shall strive, under God's guidance, and with confidence in our future, to build a greater and a better land."

NOON CEREMONY

Mr. St. Laurent extended a welcome to Newfoundland in a minute ceremony held on Parliament Hill at noon and broadcast through Canada and the new island province. It followed a similar ceremony held in St. John's, where Sir Albert Walsh was sworn in as the first Lieutenant-Governor of Newfoundland.

At the conclusion of his address the Prime Minister announced the swearing into the Canadian cabinet of J. Gordon Bradley of St. John's as Canadian secretary of state, the first Newfoundland representative in the Federal council.

DAY FOR HISTORY

Viscount Alexander, the Governor-General, delivered a brief address and read a message from the King extending "good wishes to the people of the Province of Canada . . . who will now go forward together to the high destiny that awaits them."

Mr. Bradley said this was a day which would "live long in North American history, a day which for him "transforms a dream of long ago into an accomplished fact." For years, he had felt that there was a "clear call for union with Canada."

The ceremony, held on the sun-drenched steps of the parliament buildings, began with the peal of artillery salutes from the carillon high in the peace tower rearing overhead.

STARTS EMBLEM

Mr. St. Laurent, after delivering his welcome address, mounted a new and freshly-painted scaffold to strike the first blow in the carving of the Newfoundland heraldic symbol on an empty shield above the archway under the peace tower. The spot was left blank more than a quarter-century ago when the buildings were constructed and the emblems of the other provinces carved.

The ceremony closed with playing of "God Save The King" "Ode To Newfoundland" and "O Canada".

Golden Spike Now 499 Feet

Golden Spike discovery is now only one foot short of an astounding 500-foot limestone pay zone.

Latest drillstem test of the well for the interval from 5,846 to 5,861 gave a flow of 242,000 cubic feet of gas per day and a flow of oil to the surface in 42 minutes. There were no signs of water in the test.

Bottom hovel of the test is now 499 feet below the 5,362 feet level at which the top of the D3 limestone pay zone was located early in last February.

Drillstem recovery was 3,735 feet of oil and 15 feet of gasified mud.

Mild Weekend Is Promised

Edmonton will have continued mild weather today and mild but slightly cooler tomorrow, says the weatherman.

The mercury is expected to hit a new high today of 35 and 36 tomorrow. Low tonight will be 33 above.

Little sunshine is predicted for tomorrow as skies turn cloudy with light breezes.

Churchill Says Atom Bomb Saving Europe

BOSTON, April 1.—(AP)—Doughty old Winston Churchill last night thrust out his bulldog jaw and told the world that:

"Europe would have been Communized like Czechoslovakia and London under bombardment some time ago but for the deterrent of the atomic bomb in the hands of the United States."

But, he said, "war is not inevitable."

WAR OF NERVES

Speaking of the "war of nerves," he advised the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's mid-century convocation:

"If we persevere steadfastly together, and allow no appeasement of tyranny and wrong-doing in any form, it may not be our nerve or the structure of our civilization which will break—something else will break, and peace may yet be preserved."

Reaction from abroad was slow, but the first British newspapers to comment called the speech a "recipe for peace" and "remarkable."

Churchill rolled out in sonorous tones a blunt accusation that "12 men in the Kremlin . . . aiming at the rule of the world" had "self-preservation" as the root of their "sinister and malignant policy."

RED FIFTH COLUMN

Repeating the phrase, "these thirteen men in the Kremlin," Churchill said, their "missionaries are in every country as a fifth column, awaiting the day when they hope to be the absolute masters of their fellow-countrymen and pay off old scores."

"The largest army in the world," Churchill said, "is in the hands of a government pursuing imperialist expansion, as no czar or kaiser had ever done."

The 74-year-old former prime minister of Britain said that the question, "is time on our side?" was "not a question that can be answered within strict limits."

"We have certainly not an unlimited period of time before a settlement should be achieved."

No Grass Grows On His Business

Here are Bulletin Want Ads in the role of happy homemaker.

The other day an advertising staffer spotted a car carrying "For Sale" sign. The alert staffer located the owner and convinced him he should advertise the Bulletin way.

Quick-as-ever Bulletin results sold the car in a day.

After a short interlude the man phoned 26121, said he'd got car money, got married and now wanted to advertise for a suite.

Another Bulletin classified ad found the suite for man and bride and they settled down to live happily ever after.

But: Yesterday he phoned 26121 again. Now he wants a stove and he had such good results from two Bulletin want ads, he is trying another.

J. E. Smallwood First Premier

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 1. — (BUP)—Joseph R. Smallwood, the man who led Newfoundland into confederation with Canada, announced today he had been authorized to form an interim provincial government in Newfoundland. He said he had already chosen ten members of his cabinet and would select several more shortly.

NEWFOUNDLANDERS SAY NOOF'N-LAND

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 1.—(CP)—The name of Canada's new province is pronounced with the accent on the last syllable—something like Noof'n-land.

That's not what most dictionaries say—they put it on "found"—but the Newfoundlanders ignore them.

However, some of the new Canadians don't agree with the general acceptance of the "land" accent and there are almost as many variations in the pronunciation here as there are in Canada.

Bank Clearings, Taxes, Land Sales Soaring

Bank clearings, city taxes and land sales are all headed for new records in 1949.

Taxes collected to March 31, 1949 totalled $2,205,071 compared with $2,051,042 for the same period last year, an increase of $15,026.

It is anticipated that collections in April this year will top the $100,000 mark, and in May more than $1,000,000 will pour into the city treasury as taxpayers make their first instalment payments.

Bank clearings for the first three months of this year totalled $226,463,317 compared with $185,548,473 in the period ended March 31, 1948, an increase of $40,914,844.

CLEARINGS HIGHER

Clearings in March this year amounted to $78,210,615 compared with $60,639,324 for March 1948, an increase of $17,571,291.

Land sales to March 31, 1949 amounted to $672,390 compared with $138,055 for the same month last year, an increase of $144,355.

An estimated $1,000,000 is expected from land sales this year.

N.Y. Nearly Without Cabs As Strike Begins

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Union taxi drivers struck today virtually clearing city streets of taxicabs.

The police department reported 923 cabs operating at noon in contrast to the 9,658 that normally would be running at that hour. The city has more than 11,000 cabs.

More than 2,000 extra police patrolled safety lanes set up for non-striking drivers that defied union picket lines.

There were no immediate reports of violence in the strike, called by the union in its bid for recognition as bargaining agent for the drivers.

CN Officers Coming Here

Two Canadian National Railways executives will arrive in Edmonton within the next week or 10 days in connection with the Macdonald Hotel extension, Mayor Harry Ainlay stated today.

Mayor Ainlay returned to the city this morning from New York, where he completed the deal for the refunding of $5,500,000 of Edmonton bonds.

The CNR officials to visit the city are Maynard A. Metcalfe, vice-president, and Robert Sommerville, general manager, CNR hotels. They will be accompanied by architects engaged in drafting plans for the 300-room extension.

Mayor Ainlay had nothing definite to report on when the hotel extension construction would start.

He said the proposed building would be at least 10 storeys.

Shipping Union Battle Opens

OTTAWA, April 1. — (CP) — A rough battle for control of sea-going labor on the east coast shaped up today in the wake of a strike called by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) against all Canadian deep-sea ships on that coast.

The strike, aimed at tying up almost 90 ships, pitted the 6,000-man CSU against the Seafarers' International Union, an AFL-affiliated group with 90,000 members in the United States which has stepped into the Canadian field in a move sponsored by anti-Communist union forces.

Enlarging Arena Starts

Work on the long awaited $170,000 addition to the Edmonton arena has started.

Demolition of the offices in the southeast corner has started and installation of the basic plumbing for the rest rooms to be located in this area of the arena is underway.

All materials for this section of the change over have been delivered to the arena.

Preliminary plans for the moving of the ice-making plant to the former site at the east side of the arena are now being studied, according to Jim Paul, managing director.

The present front of the arena will be demolished and the construction of six new entrances completed.

The extension will provide an additional 1,272 seats to bring the building's seating capacity to 6,692.

$10,000 Theft In East Bank

PARRSBORO, N.S., April 1.—(CP)—RCMP last night said they had arrested Vernon Johns, 32, assistant accountant of the Parrsboro, N.S. branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia and charged him with theft of $10,000.

Earlier Crown Prosecutor Ross Byrne of Queens County said the missing employe had gone to a teller early yesterday and told him the Liverpool Royal Bank branch wanted to draw $10,000 in cash. The teller gave him the money and he disappeared.

FOUR FEET WIDE EACH

Centre Strips Voted For Jasper and Whyte

Four foot centre strips will be constructed on Jasper avenue west and on Whyte avenue.

This was decided last night by city council.

Centre strips will be installed on Jasper avenue from 109 to 123 streets, and on Whyte avenue from 105 to 99 streets.

Aldermen, however, did not decide whether the centre strips would be sown to grass or blacktopped.

Consensus among aldermen was that it would not be possible to maintain sightly, tidy grass strips on either thoroughfare.

The centre strips are being installed in line with recommendation of highway and safety engineers. They are designed to stop traffic from swinging over centre lines of highways.

Factor that influenced the aldermen in deciding for centre strips was provision of safety zones for pedestrians crossing the thoroughfare.

Atlantic Pact

CCF groups in B.C. have condemned the North Atlantic Pact in resolutions. Provincial leader Harold Winch has denied the CCF will keep silent about the resolutions so as not to embarrass national leader M. J. Coldwell, who supports the pact. There will be no attempt to whip the left wing section of the CCF into line and the resolutions will be discussed in open convention, Leader Winch declares.

Rich Lead Vein Found in Arctic

550 airmiles north of Edmonton, threw the first monkeywrench into our plans.

The Beaver was temporarily unserviceable.

And the alternate during the 24 hours it would take to repair the Beaver was a beat-up, well-known, 20-year-old Fairchield 71, the same plane Matt Berry had flown nearly 20 years ago, CF-ATZ.

Should we wait, or should we take the Fairchild?

Without batting an eye, Matt said, "We'll take ATZ. She'll get us there and back."

And we're off into the wild, white northward.

First to Yellowknife for supplies and equipment and then to Coppermine, our last touch with any manner of civilization.

But Coppermine threw the first scare into us on this race into the hinterlands.

After more than four gruelling, chilling hours packed into the tiny cabin of the Fairchild, with equipment tumbling around us everytime we hit an air pocket, we arrived at where Coppermine should be. But there was no sign of it.

Daylight was dropping fast.

Gas was running low.

But still no sign of life.

Spots Waving Figures

Suddenly, as the sun began its last plunge behind the horizon, pilot Michael "Mush" Sharun, flying strictly by the seat of his pants, and no more than two hundred feet off the ice, spotted two figures madly waving their arms.

God must love bush pilots.

For with the last traces of daylight Sharun set down the tired groaning aircraft on a bumpy strip of ice, marked only by two members of the RCMP detachment at Coppermine.

And for the next 12 hours the tales and legends of the north unfolded.

The little white and native settlement, housing at this time only nine white people and a mere handful of Eskimos (the rest of the natives were seven miles out on the ice of Coronation Gulf at a seal camp, laying in suplies of seal meat and fur) is worthy of several chapters in any history book.

We learned that it is only since the advent of the family allowance payments by the Canadian government that the Eskimos folk have stopped killing off the majority of their female offspring at birth.

As a matter of fact the natives at Bathurst Inlet, only 150 airmiles away, are still killing off some female children in a manner that baffles even trained police officers who have spent years learning the habits and language of the Eskimo.

And there is the story of the pioneer Eskimo woman who died about two years ago, refusing to adhere to Christian beliefs, despite the urgings of the Oblate mission fathers of the Roman Catholic church (Fathers Delalonde, Lemer and Lapointe) or the Anglican (Canon Webster).

On her death the men of the cloth pleaded with the deceased woman's relatives to have her buried in a Christian manner.

But no.

In accordance with her dying wish, the body was wrapped in deerskin and toted for miles through heavy snow, ice and treacherous rock, high atop a knoll, two miles from Coppermine, and placed there, nothing but a feeding ground for wolves.

Takeoff at 45 Below

And so today, as one flies over this tiny little outpost on the rim of the Arctic sea, this strange site can be seen.

And so it was, amid the gibberish-like well wishes of the Eskimos and the blessings of the missionaries, we took off from Coppermine on the last leg of our northern race.

As we soared off into the early morning mist, we find that pilot Sharun, dog-tired from his strenuous day's flying previously, had spent more than two hours in the early-morning dark working furiously with a little coal-oil heater, warming the engine of the plane which had sat out in the 45 below zero Arctic night.

On the trip from here to Edmonton I had been watching for a herd of cariboo. Being an old dyed-in-the-wool easterner from away back, I had never seen a live cariboo and had been watching most expectantly for some of the great herds that are said to roam this part of the northland.

But so far I had strained my eyes in vain.

An hour out of Coppermine, just 30 or so miutes from our destination I spotted animals.

At last, cariboo!

But no!

REALLY MUSKOX

This great galloping, white-horned herd I spotted was not cariboo, but muskox, a rare nimal on this continent.

Sweeping within inches of the snow-capped, jutting rocks, Sharun threw his plane into a steep dive to give us a good look at the muskox, a cross between a cow and a sheep, with long, gleaming, down-sweeping white horns.

I later learned there are many natives in the Arctic who go through their whole lives without even seeing this animal. There are, by most reliable sources, only three herds of this strange animal known in this country, and we were lucky enough to spot one.

If this was an indicator, our trip was bound to be a success.

And so it is, with spirits buoyant, we spot the lonely wilderness that is Detention Harbor.

Not even marked on most maps, this little spot was after 18 long years, as vivid in the mind of Matt Berry, as his next day's schedule.

TAXI SHORELINE

A few brief words with the pilot, and we are down on the ice, taxiing the shoreline.

More than 1,200 miles from Edmonton, in near 40 below zero weather, three days away from home, we are nearing the culmination of one of the most venturous dashes ever made into the Arctic.

But it paid off.

Within two hours after landing Berry, despite the huge caps of ice and banks of snow, had traced, through his trusty little photos, the exact spot where he and Hall had relaxed 18 years ago, and where lay one of the richest Galena deposits known.

Within a matter of minutes Berry and Midgley had laid out their discovery posts, blasted enough samples to insure positive proof of the discovery, and were on the way back to the aircraft, bound for the closest "recorder's" office in Yellowknife.

ANXIOUS OPERATION

For our party had heard northern rumors that two other large companies, and possibly an independent prospector, knew of this same area.

Could we get back and safely record this claim without another company moving in?

From Detention back to Coppermine, refuelled and off for Yellowknife is our object.

But here fate took a hand.

From Coppermine on we are plagued by foul weather.

For hours we are not sure whether or not we can make Yellowknife.

Fuel is running low.

Weather is getting continually worse.

And finally we are forced to land at Contact Lake (the International Uranium Co. mining camp) to refuel.

GET DOWN SAFELY

Once again we take off, only to have our motor die on takeoff, less than 50 feet from the end of the lake.

But we get down safely, and it looks very much as if we are stuck for the night.

But Berry is adamant.

A quick examination shows snow had sifted into the carburetor during takeoff. An hour's work with the coal-oil heater and we are ready totake off again.

Believe me, outside of Berry and Sharun, there were three mighty timid men who climbed aboard the Fairchild 71 at Contact Lake.

Off into the snarling mass of blowing, blizzarding snow, overladen with close to 500 pounds of almost pure lead samples, all our equipment, and nearly 1,000 pounds of human flesh into the tiny Fairchild was not a comforting thought.

And as things progressed so did the worries.

Late afternoon and dusk were creeping slowly on and any further progress in this weather seemed to be inviting disaster.

KEEP PRESSING ON

But yet we press on regardless.

Finally Sharun pinpointed the Snare River power lines which runs in an almost straight line for 96 miles into Yellowknife. From this point on neither Bland, Midgley or myself never once let that power line out of sight.

Flying only 50 feet above, it was our only connection with civilization again.

And we wanted to keep it.

Finally Yellowknife and the recorder's office.

And Gateway Gold, has the rights to one of the finest and richest Galena strikes ever recorded in this country.

But not a moment too soon.

With two companies ready to move into the Great Slave area, only 300 or so airmiles away, and willing to spend millions of dollars on exploration, Gateway seems to have hit the jackpot.

SEE RUSH TO AREA

This will, mining circles indicate, mean the mushrooming of prospectors' camps through the whole Arctic as these hardy souls take up the challenge issued by this find, and the challenge thrown out recently by the federal government of Canada.

For it was just recently that C. G. Monture, chief of mineral resources with the federal department of mines, called upon the annual convention of Prospectors and Developers Association in Toronto to launch "an intensive program of prospecting and exploration in Canada for base metals."

But Gateway has beaten the pack.

In his address, Mr. Monture said: "Production today (of base metals) is still nearly from the same mines as in 1939."

"We have had no outstanding discoveries," he said.

But now Mr. Monture can take back these words.

NEW AND RICH FIND

There has been a new discovery, and a rich one.

So rich, in fact, that it could possibly play a large part in the development of Railway North, a proposed project that would bring a rail line right to Great Slave Lake at an estimated cost of close to $50,000,000.

With current mining talk, linked with Consolidated Mining's moving into the Great Slave Area, the possibility of this road is by no means obscure. For Consolidated Mining at this point, seem quite assured of a more than fair return on their investment in the north.

And so, as the snow-dimmed sun setttled down behind Edmonton's horizon, our little party arrived back after five days, smug in the comforting thought that we have won an odds-on race, and bound for our first night of relaxation in five hectic days that have taken us more than 2,500 miles and many thrilling hours from our firesides.

Birds have been found singing merrily while their mates were dead in the nest a few feet away.

The year was 1832

. . . men of Newfoundland fought to wrest a living from the sea and from the land, for themselves and their families.

But they fought with more than brawn alone, and for more than mere physical existence. Their courageous minds burned with the determination that free men should govern themselves.

In 1832, after 30 years of internal and external struggle, men like Dr. William Carson and Patrick Morris led them to their first form of representation by ballot. There followed more years of argument, of battle by negotiation, never by arms—until in 1855 the right to vote became truly theirs.

As the people of Canada welcome the men and women of Newfoundland to Canadian citizenship, it is with respect and admiration, in the knowledge that the decision to throw in their lot with this Dominion was made through the ballot box—the silent spokesman of true democracy.

When YOU cast your ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked, and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Five Sentenced For North Theft

Four Fined, One Placed On Suspended Sentence

Five Edmontonians were sentenced by Stipendiary Magistrate A. H. Gibson, KC, today in North West Territories Court here on charges of stealing property of the United States government.

Three of the accused were found guilty of the theft charge, and two pleaded guilty.

The charges arose out of the theft of three caterpillar tractors, a truck, welding machine and miscellaneous tractor and other parts.

Paul J. Jacobs, 27, and Carl R. Carlson, 35, were fined $300 or in default of payment a three-month prison term.

They will also be required to report to the nearest RCMP detachment monthly for the next three years.

Louis J. M. Jacobs, 25, and Abdou Karraja, 27, were fined $100 each or a three-month prison term in default of payment. They also will have to report to RCMP monthly.

John R. Gow, 17, was placed on suspended sentence for two and a half years.

Passing sentence on the accused Magistrate Gibson concurred with defense counsel's admission that the thefts were not deliberately planned.

Warehouse To Be Extended

Dower Brothers Ltd., wholesalers, will erect a $70,000 addition to their warehouse building at 10205 105 street.

Announcement of the extension was made today by John D. Dower, president of the company.

The addition will be a two-storey brick addition to conform with the company's present structure.

Contract for the addition has been let to Bennett and White Co.

Increase in business made it necessary to extend the company's premises.

Bull To Head Horsemen

Edmonton horseman, Tom Bull, was elected president of the Edmonton Riding Club at the annual meeting held this week.

Other officers elected were Gail Illuel, vice-president; Peggy Fuston, secretary; Anna Huston, treasurer; Grace Brown, corresponding secretary; Rose Oblak, social convener, and Gil Cole and Alec Preston directors.

Company Liquidated

Appointment of James L. Williamson of Calgary as temporary liquidator for the Canada West Insurance Co. was announced today by Hon. C. E. Gerhart, provincial secretary.

The appointment, is first to be made under terms of amendments to the Alberta Insurance Act passed last Tuesday.

Company directors include three Social Credit members of the Alta. government.

They are J. C. Lannigan, Lethbridge; R. S. Lott, Taber and M. H. Ponich, Vegreville. Included in the list of directors is A. K. Olive, superintendent of Alberta's Treasury Branches.

ALLEGATION MADE

Arthur Wray (Ind, SC—Banff-Cochrane) in the session just closed, alleged the insurance company was operating with a narrow margin of profitsm. He quoted the 1947 annual rport of the company to substantiate his charges.

Deadline for financing the company closed at midnight last night.

Mr. Williamse will wind-up company affairs and take full charge of company books today. No new business is to be written on behalf of the company, Mr. Gerhart said.

The liquidator may sell the company as a going concern during winding up operations, according to terms of the legislation.

Former directors of the firm may buy it back, if he can raise the capital, Mr. Gerhart said.

TCA Jumps Air Fares On All Canadian Lines

Announcement of the increase in rates was made today by J. S. Grahame, District Traffic and Sales Manager for TCA at Edmonton.

TRANS-CANADIRAISE

Similar rate inreases in passenger fares were made today by other TCA offices in 4 parts of Canada.

Actually, passenger fares are now at approximately the same level as they were prior to removal of a 15 per cent government tax last week.

With the announcement of upped rates, Mr. Grahame also announced the removal of cost differential previously paid by East-bound passengers traveling by way of Calgary.

Until today Winnipeg and eastern bound passengers paid the full Edmonton-Calgary fare as a differential for travelling via Calgary.

RATES EQUALIZED

Now, passengers may travel east via Calgary or Saskatoon for the same fare.

"The increased fares, effective today, mark the first rise in TCA passenger rates since April 1, 1947, and are necessitated by increased labor and material costs," Mr. Grahame said. "During that time air carrier companies in the United States have announced several increases in passenger fares."

ADMIRING painstaking artwork of leathercraft pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Neilsen is Mrs. N. T. Miller, at official opening last night of new Canadian Handicrafts Guild workroom in the Recreation building. Leathercraft display was one of many outstanding exhibitions in hand-arts that included sculpture, petit-point, weaving, shellcraft and rug-making.

High Exhibition Standard Displayed by Craft Guild

The fruits of labor of students of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild were displayed last night at official opening of the new workshop in the Recreation Building, 10280 100 street.

An old spinning wheel, several looms, a Mexican hand-woven basket—were products of a group of people who are keeping the hand arts alive in a day of machines and mass production.

LEATHERCRAFT DISPLAY

A leathercraft display by pupils of Mrs. W. R. Vernon and Dorothy Neilsen included exquisitely wrought handbags, beautifully stamped wallets and brief cases.

Sculpture by pupils of Mrs. O. J. Walker enjoyed popular attention. Her students, including eight-year-old Bobby Anderson, displayed silo and bas-reliefs, while chirrs showed the correct basic procedure for art work. Plaster casts were made by the pupils and finished in bronze.

Hand-made rugs intrigued homemakers. Four types included woolhooked, wool-tied, hooked and braided rugs of old material. One beauty was a chimney-red rug, made from old stockings, dyed.

TOOLS HARD TO GET

The woodwork and carving class of Major F. H. Norbury was impressive in spite of the fact students are having great difficulty in finding the correct type of wood and tools for carving. With inadequate materials the boys have achieved gratifying results in gum wood, birch and others collected locally.

Other displays included petit point by students of Mrs. Philip W. Jean, weaving by Mrs. Jack Hutton, and dainty blossoms in shell craft by pupils of Mrs. A. I. Millar.

GUILD CLASSES

Guild classes started early in January, some 100 students using the handicraft room. Twelve lessons constitute each course.

Instructional films were shown last night, dealing with loom weaving, leather work, sculpture, British and Mexican handicrafts. Another film showed students at the Banff School of Fine Arts.

CANADA GEESE BACK HOME

Tofield farmer, C. M. Oulton, welcomed four annual visitors and their two "friends" this week.

Four Canada wild geese raised on the Oulton farm, part of a flock of nine which went south last fall, returned Wednesday. With them were two other Canada geese.

According to Mr. Oulton the birds are ten days later than usual in returning North.

New Road Bans Are Announced

New bans on heavy traffic have been placed on Alberta roads and highways this week-end.

Effective yesterday was ban on all local roads in Improvement Districts 58, 65, 68, 69.

Bans on highways 11, Red Deer to Rocky Mountain House and 27, Olds to Sundre, came into effect this morning.

At noon today the following bans are effective: highway 12, Faust to B.C. boundary; 34, Triangle to Grande Prairie; 35, Grimshaw to N.W.T. and on all local roads in Improvement Districts 125, 126, 130, 131, 132, 124, 128, 129.

At 7 a.m. tomorrow ban will be placed on highway 41, Walnwright to Vermilion and 22, Midnapore to Black Diamond.

Thieves Show Varied Tastes

Thieves victimized motorists, cafe patrons, a housewife and a tailor yesterday to net a car radio and blanket, a top coat, purse containing $60, and six pairs of trousers.

Car radio was stolen from an auto stored at Twin Car Sales, 11029 Jasper avenue, and the auto blanket was taken from an auto parked near 103 street and 101 avenue yesterday morning.

While Dr. John Melling, Wetaskiwin, lunched at a local hotel cafe, thieves stole his topcoat from a rack in the lobby.

More daring sneak thief nabbed a purse, containing $60, from a cafe seat beside the owner, Erna Hickey, 11020 84 avenue, while she was eating in a down town restaurant.

Mrs. A. L. Parks, 10641 126 street, reported theft of a $45 rug from the back porch of her home last night.

Yee Dan Kee's complaint was that two young men who came into his tailoring shop at 25 Regal Rooms for trouser alterations went away with six pairs of pants. The trousers were contained in two parcels which were "missing after the two customers left the premises.

"Where You Are Always Sure of Quality"

Injustices Must Go

J. A. Edmison of Toronto, president of the Canadian Penal Association, has pointed out to an Edmonton audience three serious abuses of justice in Canada that call urgently for immediate remedy.

The first abuse which Mr. Edmison deplores is the failure of the judicial system to supply legal counsel for impoverished defendants except in capital charges.

Unless a man is accused of murder, there is no provision under Canadian law, as there is in England, for supplying him with a lawyer at the state's expense.

This notable omission is not only an injustice to the accused, but a handship on trial judges who usually, under such circumstances, attempt to function as arbiters of justice and counsel for the defence.

Canada is far behind Great Britain in this respect.

The second abuse of justice denounced by Mr. Edmison is the practice of imposing sentences in which a jail term is the alternative to a fine.

The man who has money pays his fine and goes free.

The man without money must be locked up.

It is not only a gross discrimination against poorer accused persons but, in effect, is a form of imprisonment for debt.

Imprisonment for debt was supposed to have been outlawed years ago.

In England, a special act makes it possible for a person faced with paying a fine to pay the impost in instalments.

It is a fair and enlightened measure which Canada has never seen fit to copy.

The third abuse of justice mentioned by Mr. Edmison is the incarceration of convicted persons in institutions where no provision is made for work, recreation or study.

The prisoner just sits and rots.

Mr. Edmison calls such places "crime schools." And he is eminently right. If rehabilitation is the first purpose of penology, such jails fail far short of it.

Indeed, instead of reforming or rehabilitating, these places merely plunge the inmate into further and more sullen rebellion against society.

Now all these three abuses of justice could be simply and readily remedied by legislation.

Indeed, it is almost incredible that supposedly humane and Christian men could sit in Ottawa without taking early and vigorous steps to correct these abuses.

In many respects, Canada's judicial and penal systems are archaic and even barbaric.

Presumably only a wave of public indignation and protest will ever secure amendments to them.

Mr. Vaughan Agrees With Us

It is encouraging to note that R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways, has shown himself in Ottawa to be in complete agreement with The Edmonton Bulletin on the matter of an extension to the Macdonald hotel.

In the house of commons railway committee, the Macdonald project was attacked by certain eastern members who wanted to know why public money should be spent away out in the western wilderness and why the full cost of the extension—between four and five million dollars—was not included in this year's estimates.

Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier explained that only preliminary work needed to be budgetted at present.

Mr. Vaughan said that:

"We believe that if we don't build this hotel extension, it will seriously affect our business in Edmonton. The amount to be spent is a mere bagatelle compared with CN traffic, including freight, in Edmonton."

That is exactly what The Bulletin has contended, that the CNR, a nationally-owned railway with a national function, must contribute to the development of a community like Edmonton whose bil and other natural resources have national significance and increase the national income.

Mr. Vaughan also repeats what The Bulletin has already said, that unless the railway company adequately serves Edmonton, this city will lose its capacity for contributing to the profits of the CNR.

Mr. Vaughan made another interesting statement which, so far as we recollect, has not been admitted before.

He said that while the Macdonald hotel did not show a profit in its early years, it was showing a profit now.

Edmonton, therefore, is not asking the CNR for any charitable contribution, although CNR profits in Edmonton would justify such a request.

Edmonton is asking the CNR to enlarge its hotel premises here as a business proposition as well as in fulfilment of an obligation.

Since Mr. Vaughan is in such complete agreement with Edmonton's view in this matter, there seems no reason for further delay.

A Poet's View of the World

Winston Churchill demonstrated again last night in his magnificent Boston speech his possession of the finest political heart and mind among living men.

He said some unforgettable things:

That it was not wise to underestimate the enduring qualities of Britain.

That the political fact to be most cherished today is the association of the British Commonwealth and the United States.

Not without demonstrable reason did Bernard Baruch introduce Mr. Churchill as the greatest Briton of all time.

But the point of his greatness was not established in his keen wit, in his erudition, in his wide knowledge nor even in his wisdom.

It was established in his view of the world and of mankind.

For his view was the poet's view that the world is a living world and not a mere material treasure to be carved up for profit.

It was established in his poetic conception of human lives as precious entities of supreme dignity and worth, not pawns on the chessboard of nations.

For Mr. Churchill is a poet, in the widest sense of that word. He is a poet in the breadth of his conceptions and the spirituality of his purpose.

Nowhere in all the oceans of contemporary literature could be found a more complete or satisfying definition of the democratic view of life as contrasted with the totalitarian view of life than in that amazing discourse that electrified the air waves last night.

It has been said that Mr. Churchill's speech was broadcast to more people than have ever heard any other presentation on the air.

In that fact lies one of the major hopes of civilization—that men by their millions will stop in their tracks to listen to the poets and the prophets.

Outlines Two Ways To Keep Employes From Going Union

I have [illegible] remembering the first co[illegible] on which I served and [illegible] when we walked into the [illegible] office—by appointmen[illegible] course—and told him the boys had got together a[illegible]rmed a union. I can still [illegible]ast strange look on his face. [illegible]burt, pained look. The look [illegible]father who has just heard th[illegible]son has poisoned granny.

The [illegible] came back fo[illegible]me as I rea[illegible] article this week in (of all [illegible]) the newspaper Women's Daily. It is written by a [illegible] named George C. Kirstein, [illegible]resident of a firm known as [illegible]Kirstein-Employee Relations [illegible]orporated. It is called "[illegible]uccessful Methods to Keep [illegible]nions."

Now, [illegible]any with most union memb[illegible] have always had the sneak[illegible]spicion that, deep down [illegible]in, the average employer [illegible]s really sold on the idea [illegible]nions. But— gee whiz—[illegible] known the things that Mr. [illegible]ein makes public in this [illegible]t think I'd have been twic[illegible]nervous when our committee[illegible]ed into the boss' office on [illegible]ay long ago.

Because Kirstein comes right out [illegible]t a two-point plan on busines[illegible], and even suggests that has been going on for s[illegible]considerable time, the only [illegible]ange is that the laws of [illegible]nd now make it illegal [illegible]o much pressure on employ[illegible]ike beating up membe[illegible]th goon squads. Still, Mr. [illegible]ein thinks these restraints [illegible]e really a good thing for [illegible]ess, too.

As he [illegible]y, "The old-fashioned meth[illegible]fighting unionization were[illegible]ely expensive, frequently o[illegible]long-term bitterness [illegible]are often ineffective [illegible]ong their objectives."

Double Choice

Better Think

Editor, Bulletin—The article by Mr. Harold L. Weir entitled "Intellect Most Overrated Quality in All the World" shows the confusion in Mr. Weir's thinking about intellectual matters.

What does he think the function of the intellect is, and why this condemnation of it? Is he asking us not to make use of this faculty?

In the obvious contradiction implied in his own article one can see clearly how guilty he is of the fault he condemns. How is one to know what to have faith in, what to love, what to hope for if one does not think? In the world today it is not man's intellect that is at fault but the abominable misuse of it.

Just because this Peace Rally group of intellectuals which the cities does not show faith, hope or charity, let him not make the mistake of believing that other intellectuals are not guided by these virtues.

We believe that Mr. Weir is sincere, but we strongly advise him to think.

Tenth Province

Editor, Bulletin.—May I compliment both the Public and Separate School Boards of Edmonton through the letter column of The Bulletin for showing a really progressive spirit in education by declaring a school holiday on March 31, 1949?

As a consequence of their act it is highly likely that many of the twenty-one thousand pupils, presently attending the Edmonton exhibition prize and drawings have a tenth province, that the one-time Crown Colony of Newfoundland has become a part of our great Dominion. Neither are they likely to forget the date of its admission.

How many Albertans know when their own province was admitted? Nor are they likely to forget the unique name of the newest province. for this holiday will probably fix it in their minds, especially when stressed by the projects which all social studies classes must be planning or must have consummated.

Is it too much to hope that all the citizens of Edmonton, not merely the children, will extend their new connection the courtesy of learning the correct pronunciation of Newfoundland, and also at the same [illegible]make themselves aware [illegible]here is a difference betwe[illegible]John's, the capital of the [illegible]sland province and St. [illegible]n's, New Brunswick, the [illegible]ty of Saint John (not St. John's) river [illegible]ll, who of us like to [illegible]our names misspelt or [illegible]nounced?

Must Come To Alberta

Editor, Bulle[illegible]nce again Mr. Macklin is [illegible]e beam" in his statements [illegible]gard to the discovery and [illegible]opment of oil.

Outlines Two Ways To Keep Employes From Going Union

The Rock-'Em-Sock-'Em Methods," he says suavely, "involves hiring spies so that every move the union plans will be known. It means firing all employees who take an active interest in unionism, even though at some subsequent time the Labor Relations Board orders them reinstated with full back pay."

"Pray do continue," we murmur, recalling all those stirring speeches by business leaders on "The Place of Labor In Our Democracy."

"It involves careful screening of all job applicants to make sure no one who ever worked in a unionized company can possibly get on the payroll," Mr. Kirstein goes smoothly on. "It requires a generous 'slush' fund to assure that the right people leave town on the right day, either because they are paid to leave or because others are paid to 'persuade' them to leave."

The trouble with this, Mr. K. says with a shrug, is that "it's expensive both in terms of money and in terms of employee and public goodwill." Otherwise, we are to presume, it's just another business procedure, incorporated.

Second Method

We now come to the gentleman's alternative plan, which he seems to favor.

"The second, tried-and-tested method of keeping a union out," he writes, "is the Kill-'Em-With-Kindness school. This fairly simple technique is based on waiting to see what the union promises the employees and then promptly granting them more. If the union is campaigning for a 40-hour, five-day week, the Hug-'Em-To-Death adherents put in a 37½-hour schedule."

Ah, but there's trouble here, too. "Unless this technique is played right on the nose, it's likely to backfire," Mr. Kirstein cautions. "It's expensive—awfully expensive. And if the union should win out because the kiss of death doesn't prove to be fatal, the employer starts from the new high levels which management has 'voluntarily' instituted."

All in all, Mr. K. makes it clear that being a boss can be mighty trying, and I suppose there's a lot of them who have had sleepless nights wondering whether to whip 'em to death or to clasp 'em to their bosoms.

And, of course, there are so many stubborn people in trades unions that their only fault seems to be either thrown out into the cold or taken into the reluctant embrace.

Letters to the Editor

Should Have Published It

Editor, Bulletin.—It requires no small effort on my part to sit down and write. I may say that I belong to that group who have seen more schools than schoolboys. So to write a letter is a laborious task. But there are times in spite of such handicap I am tempted to tackle it. This is one of the times.

I have taken The Bulletin for a long time. I stopped when it was printed by scab labor, but took it up again when things got right. I have admired it for its outspoken manner. I have no time for petty mouth hypocrisy.

However, quite recently I got a jolt. It seems that your paper refused to publish some advertisement dealing with the Atlantic Pact, submitted by the Labor Progressive Party. I do not know the contents of that advertisement but the thing that burns me, is, that through you I had no chance of knowing. I feel that in keeping with the spirit of The Bulletin it should have been published, even if it be the flipside of it you had blasted the daylight out of it.

Unless it had you stumped.

Where Is Freedom

Editor, Bulletin—A small percentage of the population of Canada milk cows. Many of them do so in order that they and their children may have plenty of milk, cream and butter, and market whatever surplus they may have. A much smaller percentage milk cows as a business, and their market seems to be controlled by the small group comprising what is known as the dairy industry.

The latter group must no powerful indeed. The very [illegible]ent example of such power appears in our province of Alberta, where political pressure secured a minor triumph — margarine must not be colored, like butter —and just recently the province of Quebec banned the manufacture, sale or use of the well known butter substitute, under heavy penalties including prison.

Where now are the Freedoms our forefathers fought to gain and that we have twice so far in this century fought to support and retain?

The manufacture and sale of a competitive priced substitute for butter, more nutritious and more within reach of the average family purse, is apparently to be artificially stopped by controlled by governmental orders, at the behest of the dairy combine.

Where is the fredom of private enterprise?

Rebukes Edmonton

Editor, Bulletin—I certainly enjoyed the letter "What Ails Edmonton?" Having lived here for some time now, I am still not used to the continual bickering and back-biting.

I find even so-called Edmontonians far from sincere while singing Edmonton's praises. I feel they're more on the defensive than anything else.

This city certainly has all things needed to make a metropolis all Canadians would be proud of, but so far the attitude has not grown with the population.

A lot of the letters to the Editor prove this.

Among other places I have also lived in Calgary and I would like to say that on the whole Calgarians love their city—so do Vancouverites, in fact where else does one find as much grumbling as in Edmonton?

Also I never heard the slanders about this city while in Calgary that I hear in Edmonton about Calgary. For the most part they're above such pettiness.

Right here as a former Calgarian I wish to apologize for the recent letter written by two Calgarians entitled "Not worth so much." It was very foolish and not befitting a true Calgarian. They're friendly and warm people.

I would like to be proud of Edmonton—one should be proud of their city, but I find like other Edmontonians I have to hunt around for reasons so I talk as they do about Edmonton's great future. But to myself I have to admit I wonder if that time will ever come.

Service In Stores

Editor, Bulletin — Some time ago I read a letter or two in your paper concerning the way country people are treated by clerks in stores in our city.

I think she or he failed to stress one point;

Which stores?

For if she or he were referring to our large department stores I do not agree.

I think all our large department store managers ought to be given credit for their ingenuity on selecting their clerks.

I have found they are always ready and willing to serve, and help select, also please their customers without a moment's delay or hesitation.

But the courtesy shown customers in these two-bit stores is a disgrace. Why the clerks feel so superior in these dime stores a number of us have never been able to figure out.

If they are not standing around trying to look pretty they are chatting with some of their friends, or with each other, over what took place last night and what they are going to do tonight.

I have had my personal experiences in these stores a while back, but I stay out of them now.

Certainly there have been many complaints among customers and the way they have been treated in these stores.

If you want anything very badly, one has to deliberately shove it into their hands. Sure they put it in a bag or wrap it up as the case may be, but get ready for they are going to fling it back at you.

One day I stood watching a woman look through a pile of nicely laid shirts. She was doing a very nice job keeping everything orderly, holding one in her hand. When suddenly a clerk actually swooped down on her and very rudely took the shirt out of her hand, laid it back in order and without so much as a smile said; "May I help you, Madam?"

What did Madam do? Without so much as a smile she walked away.

I have lived in various cities in Canada. I want to say, and it comes from the bottom of my heart, the clerks in our large department stores here are tops.

Using the word tops, that goes for The Bulletin too. It's tops in our house.

Special celebrations in Britain will mark the bicentenary of Goethe's birth this year. Theatrical productions in English and German, concerts of music inspired by Goethe, important lectures and conferences as well as exhibition prints and drawings are in preparation. Amongst the supporters of the project are Bernard Shaw and T. S. Eliot. Music is represented by composer Vaughan Williams and the theatre by Dame Sybil Thorndike. UNESCO's first Director General, Professor Julian Huxley and Professor Gilbert Murray also figure on the committee.

ON THE RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

German Stability Rendered More Hazardous by Obduracy of France

In view of the new Soviet tactics in West Germany, where Russian agents no longer are working only through German Communists but through German Conservatives under the banner of "national unity and neutrality," the backings and fillings, confusions and delays of Western policy are all the more deplorable.

THOMPSON

Although the East Zone is ready with its constitution Berlin dispatches during the last 10 days have reported a "sudden sharp drop in hopes for the early establishment of a West German state."

The fault does not lie with the German politicians but with the Western military governments, who have failed to make good their promises of an occupation statute to limit precisely the powers and responsibilities of the German government.

All occupations are a burden on the occupied.

But the core of all occupations is an arbitrary one, of undefined scope. It leads competent men to reject political participation and administrative tasks because of uncertain responsibility and fear of the charge of "collaboration."

If there were unity west and east it might be argued, pragmatically, that German public opinion doesn't matter.

It happens, however, that the Russians are offering to end the occupation altogether, in a bold bid for Germany.

Under those circumstances German opinion and success for the Germans loyal to Western civilization matter very much, for the loss of Germany will be the loss of Europe.

Offset Soviets

Only a sufficiently bold initiative by the West could politically offset the Soviets.

But it is at just this moment that the Western program bogs down—unfortunately because of the delaying tactics of the French, who are separating the Western powers at the worst possible moment.

The French have had their way about many things and with the co-operation of certain framers of the Bonn constitution which provides for far more decentralization than has been anticipated. The French also have had much of their own way on the internationalizing of the Ruhr.

As a result, the constitution has little, if any, chance of being ratified. It is being refused by the Social Democrats without whose co-operation it is impossible to govern Western Germany.

The West German government is, therefore, now being opposed by the Communists, the Nazi-stein Conservatives and the Social Democrats—which is a drastic political victory for the Russians.

The opposition of the Social Democrats to the constitution is that by placing so much power in the states it fragments a national use of German resources.

It will give Bavaria, the most reactionary German state, power to sabotage the rest of the country, and behind it all lies the never-abandoned Separatist concepts of the French which, in the past, have had such woeful consequences for all Europe.

Furthermore, the North Atlantic Pact, which makes no provision for the defence of Western Germany, fills the Germans with alarmed despair.

Although it provides that an attack on Western occupation forces would be deemed aggression, Germans believe that in case of war Western forces would withdraw beyond the Rhine, throwing Germany to the wolves.

All these considerations press toward the logical conclusion that Germany cannot avoid tryst for an understanding with Russia, and Communist propagandists are spreading the news that Russia would be willing to pay a handsome price.

Critical Situation

From this distance—I shall be better informed after a forthcoming visit to Europe—it would seem that the critical nature of the German situation can hardly be overrated.

Indeed, is it possible for this columnist to see how Europe could ever be defended if Germany were lost, and lost politically she will be lost militarily.

There is not the slightest question that the Russians are prepared within limits to rearm Germany, provided it arms a Red army.

American officials are openly blaming the French, and certainly if French behavior drives Germany toward Russia, France will be the gravedigger of Europe.

There are still great resources in Germany for starting a strong, genuine peace movement and a consolidated Europe, even at German sacrifices.

In nothing less is there European security.

But the crisis demands grand measures and decisive moves, not petty measures and vacillation.

Moscow is currently entirely on the political offensive in Germany. This will be a year of decision, determining whether the balance will be swung on the side of peace and civilization or toward tyranny, Western stagnation and eventually certain war.

Caps in Late Rally To Shade Trail 2-1

Ab McDougall, Hauck Score As Regina Takes Opening Tilt

NELSON, B.C., April 1.—(CP)—Regina Capitals flashed two third period goals last night to defeat Trail Smoke Eaters 2-1 and take the opening game of the best-of-seven series in the Western Canada Senior Hockey semi-finals. Second game will be played here Saturday night.

Both squads fought through a scoreless opening stanza. Smokies took the lead in the second period on an early goal. Regina came back strongly in the finale, knotting the count early and flashing the winner at the halfway mark.

Lou Hauck gave the Capitals the winning goal midway through the final period after Ab McDougall robbed Smokies of a one-goal edge at 1:10 of the same period. Trail's lone goal was scored by Frank Turik.

The two teams settled down to business quickly after a few minutes of sizing one another up. The Caps spent the first half of the ice without much trouble. Trail appeared to have an edge on the play, however, but the six penalties handed out by Vic Lindquist and Lorne Lyndon of Winnipeg went to Capitals.

Neither team was able to score in the opening period and it was not until just before the five minutes of the overtime session that Frank Turik put Trail ahead with the first goal, his flip shot beating Bev Bentley neatly.

There was no further scoring until just over the minute mark of the third period, when Ab McDougall broke through the Trail defence and backhanded the knotting marker past Duke Scodellaro. About eight minutes later Lou Hauck, Regina left wing, and Vic Myles combined to give Scodellaro no chance. The Duke never saw the rubber as Hauck parked it behind him during a melee.

Frank Sullivan, recruited from Kimberley Dynamiters, where he was the leading scorer on the first string, played a sterling game on the defence for Trail. Harvey Barnes and Mel Hill shone for Caps.

LINE-UPS

Regina—Bentley, Myles, G. Kyle, H. Kyle, Sullivan; Hauck, McDougall, Suther, Barnes, Wilkie, Fisher, McCullough, Sommer, Mel Brewer, Var. Dexter, Staudohar.

Trail — Scodellaro, J. Anderson, Carrado, Clarke, D. Anderson, Cuttress, Turik, Lyndon, Lindquist, Sullivan, Love, Turik, Cavanagh, Gardner, Hoskins, Tymashenko, Nowe.

First Period—Scoring none. Penalty: B. Kyle.

Second Period—Trail, Turik (Love) 4:50. Penalties: Nowe, Barnes, Myles, Lindquist.

Third Period — Regina, McDougall (Hauck) 18:50. Trail: B. Kyle, Myles) 9:45. Penalty: Sommer.

Ed Lucht Paces Vic To Win

CARDSTON, Alta., April 1. — (CP) — Edmonton Victoria high school, coached by Ed Lucht who sank 22 points, edged Cardston Golden Ghosts 50-46 here last night in the first game of a best-of-three series for the Alberta "B" high school basketball championship. Second game will be played here tonight with a third game, if necessary, slated for Saturday night.

Besides being the leading scorer of the night, Lucht was the hero of the game. With Cardston leading 48-46 and only three minutes to go, he plunked in two baskets to give the Edmonton quintet the necessary margin of victory.

The visitors led for the greater part of the game, holding a 25-18 advantage at half time and a 39-35 lead at the three quarter mark.

Cardston deadlocked the score 46-46 with eight over three minutes left and then moved ahead 48-46 on Olsen's shot. This paved the way for Lucht's tying and game-winning baskets.

LINE-UPS

Edmonton—Polonuk (2), Lucht (22), Reed (3), Morrison (4), Montcrief, Bentley (7), Hetherington (6), Sadey, Galanka, Day. Total 50.

Cardston — Leavitt (6), Olsen (17), Wood, Ritter, Lee (11), Bezzett, Aldridge, Nelson, Godfrey, Brooks, Purnell, Broadhead, Forsyth, Nish. Total 46

Plan New Method Of Picking Golfers

WINNIPEG, April 1.—(CP)—The Manitoba Golf association announced yesterday that the provincial Willingdon Cup team will be picked on the strength of a 72-hole medal play competition.

Various methods for selecting the team have been used in the past. It has been customary for one of the four spots, at least, to be given to the Manitoba amateur winner. This year, however, the Willingdon trophy since amateur tournaments are conducted on a match play basis while medal scores count in the Willingdon cup competition.

Association president Bill Bickell said it had been decided the parent club will send a maximum of six players into the team trials. The four players returning the lowest aggregate cards over the 72-hole route will constitute Manitoba's cup team.

Thunderbird on Tuesday Mat Card

Local wrestling interests have revived old Chief Thunderbird for next week's top mat attraction. The Chief returns to these hunting grounds against the Camrose farmhand, Al Mills.

Stuart Hart, a local boy, trades headlocks with Bob Lortie of Quebec in the semi-windup. A special event between Frank Murdoch and Guy Ross has been arranged.

In the preliminary attraction Lloyd Yakimowich of the U of A will get his first pro match when he fates Dallard Ouellet.

CALGARY ARENA TO SEAT 6,650 FANS

CALGARY, April 1.—(CP)—Plans for one of the most modern fireproof hockey arenas in Western Canada were approved by the board of directors of the Calgary Stampede and Exhibition company at a meeting yesterday. It is hoped to be completed by Aug. 31, 1950.

Announcement regarding the 6,650-seat concrete and steel structure was made by J. Charles Yule, secretary of the exhibition board. There will be room behind the last row of seats also for 2,200 "standers."

The ice hockey surface will be 200 by 85 feet, regulation size, while the entire building will have outside dimensions of 400 by 210 feet.

No figures on cost will be released until tenders are in.

The new building will be located along the northern boundary of the exhibition grounds.

EAC's Confirm Statement Of Seeking WCJHL Entry

Now it's official . . .

Confirming a statement made to The Bulletin Wednesday by Leo LeClerc, EAC hockey director, that his organization planned to apply for application into the Western Canada Junior Hockey league, the EAC's gave out with the following release late last night:

Jointly signed by president Al. Anderson and LeClerc, the giant release verified that EAC's have decided to file an application for next season and "it is hoped that once again Edmonton will be prominent in the junior field, as in the days of the Canses, Kreller, Young and etc."

Following is the statement:

"In order that various rumors and 'hot-air' reports may be removed from the realm of conjecture, our organization wishes to clarify our position in regard to a proposed entry in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league.

Early in February of this year, at a time when the Junior league was still in operation we called a meeting of the heads of the four athletic clubs in the city for the purpose of discussing points of mutual interest, among which was the suggestion, made by us, that the four athletic clubs form a single junior "A" hockey team for next season, operated independently, but financed by the four clubs. This meeting was attended by the president of the Maple Leaf Athletic club, the South Side Athletic association and the Edmonton Athletic club. The Catholic Athletic club was not in attendance.

The suggestion was made at that time that each president take the matter back to his respective club for discussion and be prepared to meet, in company with one other member of his executive, with the other organizations at a date two weeks later—March 2nd to be exact. At the request of the EAC, Gordon Ingram, a disinterested sportsman and not a member of any club, was appointed to act as secretary for these meetings. Mr. Ingram then circularized, by mail, each of the clubs concerned, outlining the points to be discussed and requesting their attendance at the March 2nd meeting. This meeting was duly held and attended by the MLAC, the SSAA, and the EAC presidents but again the CAC was not represented. However, at this time, the matter was fairly discussed but the EAC were the only club in full favor of the plan, although our entry was then engaged with the MLAC for the city junior title.

Subsequent to this, our entry won the city title and then went on to defeat the Wetaskiwin team of imports for the northern Alberta title. In the series with the highly rated Calgary team our entry distinguished themselves remarkably well and greatly enhanced the prestige of Edmonton in the junior field. It should be pointed out, that we reinforced this team with three of the standout players of the MLAC which proved conclusively that Edmonton has sufficient local talent to beat a team of paid imports.

The nucleus of our team is intact for next year—of the players we had signed only five will be going over junior age and is vastly different from other contenders in the local loop who lose practically all of their stellar performers and must rebuild their teams. Under these circumstances we had the most to lose by this single team project, yet it was the EAC which proposed the venture.

The series recently concluded with Wetaskiwin and then Calgary, has accomplished a great deal toward bringing junior hockey in this city and to make Edmonton juniors known, not only in Alberta but in all western Canada. With the intention of retaining this prestige for Edmonton the Edmonton Athletic club has decided to file an application for entry in the WCJHL for next season and it is hoped that once again Edmonton will be prominent in the junior field, as in the days of the Canses, Kreller, Koung and etc"

signed: A. J. Anderson,
president,
Leo LeClerc,
Hockey director.

Belter Signs With Eskimos

Ed "Lefty" Belter came to terms with Edmonton Eskimos of the Big Four Baseball league yesterday, becoming the ninth player to sign for the 1949 club to sign this week. Earlier, Jerry Seaman inked a 1949 contract. Seaman pitched seven and two-third innings while with the Eskimos last year, winning one and losing one.

Belter, a right-hander, compiled an 11-6 record in 20 games. He topped the league in the strikeout department with a grand total of 139 in 150 innings.

In addition the slender southpaw was elected to the Bulletin all-star team. Thus far this spring his baseball activity has been confined to several instructional stints with the Recreation Commission baseball school.

Pages Upset Meltons To Take Series Lead

It was a battle of the fittest as Meltons and Pages opened the best-of-three final series for the City Intermediate "B" Hockey league championship at the arena last night.

Pages proved to be the "fittest" shading Meltons 5-4 in a wide-open tilt played before a sparse gathering.

Pages' victory came as quite an upset. Meltons went through the entire league season without a setback.

Diminutive Gordon Dani and Jim Hume sparked the victors, each getting to Melton goalie "Fuzzy" Stevenson for a pair of goals. Jim Macauley got the other on a solo effort.

For Meltons, Lloyd Shaefer, Howard Calvert, Doug Herbert and Lloyd Spooner blinked the light behind aglie Jim Rose.

Pages, off goal by Dahl, from Leo LeClair, and Jim Hume, from blonde Keals Barry, moved to a 2-0 margin early in the first frame. Shaefer teamed with Bill Cherney and Jim King to cut the score in half before the initial whistle, however.

Macauley went in alone to lift Pages' edge to 3-1 at 4:52 of the second session, only to have Calvert and Herbert knot the count before the bell.

It was Jim Hume who scored what later proved to be the clincher for Pages late in the final period, after Dahl had lifted the count to 4-3 in the early going.

Meltons didn't have it following Spooner's goal at 19:24.

Next game of the round will be played at the Arena Saturday night, starting time being 8 o'clock. If a third tilt is needed, date will be announced later.

McBeths Take SS Bantam Title

McBeths won the South Side baseball league championship last night, edging Fergusons 3-2. Goal getters for McBeths were Ned Reichbart with two and George de Rapparti with one. Ron Harris bagged a pair of goals for the losers.

By virtue of the victory the McBeth outfit clinched the Windsor Jewellers Trophy.

Stewart Files $250,000 Suit

DETROIT, April 1.—(BUP)—Ronald defenceman of the Detroit Red Wings, Jack Stewart has begun action on a $250,000 libel suit against Montreal newspaperman Andy O'Brien.

Stewart's attorney filed in Circuit Court, of Detroit, Michigan, a declaration of his intention to begin the suit against O'Brien. O'Brien accused Stewart in an article in the Montreal Standard of deliberately injuring ace Montreal Canadiens centre Elmer Lach.

O'Brien charged in the article that Stewart set out methodically to further injure Lach's jaw, broken earlier this season.

Lach, a high-scoring ace, has been sidelined since the bloody final game of the regular season with Hill. He had returned to action only a few days before.

A summons ordering O'Brien to appear April 25 to answer the charges was served on him at Olympia Stadium. And it came 15 minutes before the Wings and Canadiens squared off in the fifth game of their Stanley Cup semi-finals series.

AWARD WORTH 300 SKINS

Carl Liscombe Most Gentlemanly In AHL

NEW YORK, April 1—(CP)—Carl Liscombe, high-scoring left winger of Providence Reds, has been voted the American Hockey league's most gentlemanly player for the 1948-49 season.

Liscombe, who also won the circuit's most valuable player award, will receive $300 from the league for winning the Jack Fox Memorial or "Oldest player" award.

The veteran forward from Perth, Ont., tossed out Bid Sweet of Pittsburgh Hornets for the award. Liscombe drew 17 points to Smith's 16. Danny Sprout, Cleveland Barons defenceman, was third with 14 points, followed by Phil Hergesheimer of Philadelphia Rockets with nine.

The circuit's 11 referees made the selections. A first place vote counted three points, a second place nomination, two, and third place, one. Maximum number of points a player could have received was 33.

Liscombe now has picked up $800 in addition to his salary this year. He received $200 for winning the most-valuable-player award, $200 for making the second All-Star team and $300 for the clean-player award. He spent but two minutes in the sin bin in the 60 games he played this year.

Last season Liscombe received $900 in prize money, $300 for the scoring championship, $300 for most valuable player and $300 for gaining a spot on the first team All-Star team.

The clean-player award is given to the player who best combines gentlemanly conduct on the ice with effective playing ability.

Referees are called on to make the choice since they top best judge a player's conduct and ability by their command watch for five successive.

Ducey Signs Max Lanier

Max Lanier, great southpaw of St. Louis Cardinals, now under suspension from organized baseball for having run off and joined the Mexican league several years ago, will manage Eskimos of the Big Four loop, John Ducey announced yesterday.

In making the announcement Mr. Ducey stated proudly: "We had to go high to get Max (it's reported he could have returned to Mexico at $20,000 for the season) but we feel the expenditure of a few thousand extra dollars in this case is well worthwhile.

"After all we owe it to Renfrew Park fans to provide the best possible available material. Negotiations have been proceeding for several months. On Wednesday I received a wire from Lanier advising he would report May 1."

Then he added with a grin: "Say . . . are the Cubs still in the league?"

For that matter are the Calgary entries—Buffaloes and Purity—"still in the league?"

★ ★ ★ ★

Morris Will Not Be Back

Lanier's acquisition means that Eddie Morris, popular and dynamic manager who drove Eskimos to the league title a year ago, definitely will not be back.

The talk is that he is hot on the trail of a job with the Hollywood police force, probably on the assumption that he spent so much time last season screeching "robber, burglar, thief" at Big Four umpires that trying to keep the real thing under control won't be too tough.

At that Ducey and associate, Brant Matthews, were smart to come up with Lanier as a replacement for the full-of-bounce Morris. Almost anyone else would have fallen somewhat short of the mark in the eyes of the rabid followers of Morris.

It is expected that Lanier will take a regular turn on the mound for his Eskimos, all of which adds up to deep trouble for even the acknowledged heavy hitters who dot the line-ups of Cubs, Buffs and Purity.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Figures Read: $65,000

An established Card regular and World Series hero, Lanier jumped the St. Louis club to join Jorge (Heavy Sugar) Pasquel's Mexico set-up early in the 1946 season.

At the time it was reported that Pasquel dumped a $65,000 going-away bonus in Lanier's lap.

Since then the great southpaw's Mexican outlook has undergone a change. Currently he has a $1,500,000 suit pending against baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler and other diamond executives.

"He's no cheap-skate," Ducey reiterated. "That's why we had to go so high for him. But I feel certain the outlay will be justified in increased attendance."

Yes, Max Lanier could do a lot of things for the Esks and the Big Four loop . . . If Ducey really had him signed.

Actually—if you haven't already guessed—we've just been kidding on the square.

After all, isn't this April Fool's Day?

Magrath Beats Meteors by 93-75

Southern Albertans Always In Command in Series Opener

MAGRATH, Alta., April 1.—(CP)—The sharp-shooting Magrath Lions, showing marked superiority in almost every department, whipped Edmonton Meteors 93-75 last night to win the opening game of a best-of-three series for the Alberta senior men's basketball championship.

Second game of the series will be played here tonight.

A sensational 31-point scoring effort by Wes Rice paced the high-flying Lions to their victory. Rice, scoring champion of the southern Alberta senior men's league this year, shared scoring honors with big Max Sabey, who plunked in 24 points for the winners.

Meteors held Lions on even terms for the opening 10 minutes with the score reading 29-27 for Magrath. After that, however, the visiting club was never in the picture as Lions started to roll and took a commanding 51-40 lead at half time.

The second half was the same story as the Lion's scored time and time again to lead all the way. With only eight minutes left in the game they were out in front by a 90-71 margin and coasted to victory from there on in.

Golfers Come Out Of the Mothballs

The golfers came out of winter hiding yesterday via a communique from the Edmonton Golf association outlining tournament dates for the 1949 season.

Frintance the inter-club matches for the McMullen cup will get underway May 15, with subsequent clashes scheduled for May 22 and May 29.

Highlands turned up as winner last year.

Qualifying test and first round matches in the City Amateur tournament will be run off Sun. Aug 7. Last tournee coming under the jurisdiction of the EGA is the City Open, scheduled for Sept. 18.

As well dates will be announced later having to do with the City Junior tourney.

Just one thing secretary Cliff Willetts neglected to disclose—at what course each of the tournaments will be staged.

Villemain, LaMotta In Weight Battle

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Negotiations for a return bout between Jake LaMotta of New York and Robert Villemain of France at Montreal May 2 were stymied yesterday by LaMotta's demands that he be permitted to weigh 165 pounds.

Promoter Raoul Godbout of the Montreal Forum was negotiating.

Villemain, who lost a widely-protested 12-round decision to LaMotta at Madison Square Garden last Friday night, insisted at first that LaMotta scale no more than 160 pounds. However, LaMotta demanded the right to weigh 165 pounds. During the negotiations, Villemain finally agreed to permit Bronx Jake to come in at 165, but would go no higher.

For last Friday night's fight, LaMotta weighed 160½, Villemain 158. Villemain will meet a yet undetermined middleweight at Madison Square Garden May 20. Pete Mead may be his opponent.

Racing, Daily Double Return to Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Horse Racing and the Daily Double came back to Jamaica today as New York's long turf season opens a 196-day stand.

PRO HOCKEY PLAYER Harry Psutka has been signed by Detroit Tigers as a catcher and will be farmed to Toledo of the American association. Psutka, from Kitchener, Ont., has just completed his winter chores for Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey league.

The main attraction will be the 46th running of the $25,000 added Paumonok Handicap. A nifty field of 15 top sprinters headed by Mr. Request and Better Self is entered for the six furlong dash.

If the weatherman's forecast of "fair and mild" for today holds true, upwards of 40,000 persons are expected to cram into the Jamaica racing plant.

Crowding the Paumonok for attention will be the revival of the Daily Double—missing from New York tracks since 1943. This is the attractive device which permits the customer to get rich quick—if he's extremely lucky. All he has to do is buy a $2 ticket, coupling the winner of the first race with the winner of the second. The profit depends on how many other customers bet on the same combination.

The Double was inaugurated at New York tracks in 1941, and it boomed with the lush war years. At the end of the 1945 season, however, the Double was dropped. It entailed a lot of extra work, and plenty of money was being bet otherwise.

Pari-mutuel wagering has been falling off, though, in recent years so a poll on return of the double was conducted last fall. It showed that the double was in demand. The customer always is right.

In another move to lure the missing dollars, Jamaica will have eight races a day instead of seven. All will be on the flat.

Twelve stakes with added value of $270,000 will be decided during the 30-day spring meeting.

Wheat Kings Flash Form to Blast Bruins

BRANDON, April 1.—(CP)—Brandon Wheat Kings, displaying the form which made them a standout hockey team all season, defeated Port Arthur Bruins 6-2 last night in the first game of their best-of-seven Canada Junior semi-final series.

Bruins, last year's Memorial Cup winners, trailed from the start, being behind 2-1 at the end of the first period, down 4-1 in the second and scoring only once in the third while Wheat Kings fired home two shots.

Juckes led the Manitoban champions with two goals. Others scoring were Alf Francis, Jack McKenzie, Glen Sonmor and Reg Abbott. Alex Delvicchio and Pet Peolowski were the Bruins marksmen.

Wheat Kings, before a capacity crowd of almost 5,000 fans, won pretty much as they pleased, combining a stout defensive game with a tireless attack on Bruins' net. Only some over-anxious shooting kept the score from mounting higher than 6-2.

Bruins, who meet Brandon in the series' second game Saturday, never gave up, but they were slowed down by the heavy checking of their opponents.

It wasn't the most exciting game to watch for the spectators, with both clubs starting cautiously and taking some time to warm up in their play.

Becomin A Habit; Roy Wouters Loses

VANCOUVER, April 1.—(CP)—Roy Wouters, western Canada middleweight champion, last night went down to a 10-round defeat at the hands of Bobby Ward, San Francisco Negro, in the main event of a professional boxing card here. It was the third consecutive set-back for the Montreal battler as he failed to hold a lead built up in the early rounds, when Ward opened up with stiff punching in the last six heats.

Late Rush Gives Detroit 3-1 Victory Over Montreal

DETROIT, April 1.—(CP)—Goals by Jerry Couture and Gord Howe 32 seconds apart in last four minutes of play last night gave Detroit Red Wings a 3-1 Stanley Cup playoff victory over Montreal Canadiens and a three-to-two lead in the best-of-seven series.

A crowd of 14,299 howling fans sat through a flood of 19 penalties to see the dramatic climax that put the Red Wings within a single victory of a berth in the cup finals against the defending champions, Toronto Maple Leafs.

MONTREAL WAS FIRST

Montreal scored first, early in the second period, when Rip Ropelle fired a backhander as he skated tumbling past the Detroit goal and caught Wing netminder Harry Lumley by surprise.

For a long time it appeared that was enough but Detroit, after missing innumerable good scoring chances in the first two periods acted failing once with a two-man advantage for a full minute, broke loose for all three goals in the final 20 minutes.

Sid Abel tied it up with 13 minutes left to play when he ripped in an angle shot from an assist from defenceman Red Kelly, who swept wide around the Montreal defence.

REALLY ROLLING

Then after Haba Joe Carveth failed on a clear breakaway chance, the Red Wings tucked away the decision with two unassisted quick goals.

Couture slipped between defenceman Doug Harvey and Butch Bouchard of the Canadiens and slid a 10-foot shot along the ice that goalie Bill Durnan didn't even make a move to stop.

That was the winning goal but Detroit didn't stop there.

Howe intercepted a Montreal pass at the blue-line, moved one stride in and loosed a 55-foot screen shot that Durnan didn't see until the puck was in the net.

SIX FOR HOWE

It was Howe's sixth goal of the series and his fifth in the last three games.

The triumph was another one for Detroit's No. 1 offensive line of Howe, Abel and Ted Lindsay.

That line now has accounted for 10 of the 12 goals Detroit has scored in the five games with the Canadiens.

Both teams headed back for Montreal by train last night. The sixth game is scheduled there Saturday. If Detroit doesn't clinch it then they'll be back here for a seventh game Tuesday.

SUMMARY

First Period—Scoring none. Penalties, Laycoe, Lindsay (2), Stewart (2), Harmon.

Second Period — Montreal, Ropelle (Harvey) 1:21. Penalties, Gee, Reardon, Richard (2), Lindsay, Fillion, Chamberlain, Howe, Pavelich.

Third Period—Detroit, Abel (Kelly) 5:10. Detroit, Couture 18:38. Detroit, Howe 17:00. Penalties: Kelly, Chamberlain.

JIM PAUL
... To the losers, a feast.

Exhibition Group To Fete Flyers

As Allan cup kings last spring Flyers found the banquet league a mighty rough circuit. In a spirit of 'to the victor belongs the spoils' they were wined and dined by many local groups, the last of the dinners not coming off until long after the skates had been shelved.

This spring finds Flyers on the sidelines with, of course, the bids for banquets and the like considerably curtailed.

However, just so Gordon Watt and his mates won't forget entirely how it feels Jim Paul and his Edmonton Exhibition associates, sponsors of the team, tonight will stage a spread for them—rag style—at the Exhibition offices.

Earlier in the week Flyers were guests of the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon of that organization.

Underdogs Win

WINNIPEG, April 1.—(CP)—The underdogs came through last night when Winnipeg Nationals upset the favored Fort Frances Canadians 6-0 to take the first game of their best-of-seven Western Canada senior semi-final series.

NOTHING BACKWARD ABOUT FLASH BAILEY

Harvey (Flash) Bailey is not one to underestimate his chances, especially when he is bashing somebody about in the squared circle.

So it came to pass last night that the Flash called himself no hair Al (Pinky) Cowan of Spokane in their six-round feature attraction on Gene Mason's boxing card at the stock pavilion tonight.

Bailey will come in at 148 and Cowan is expected to displace 142 pounds or thereabouts.

But who knows? This is April Fool's day, after all.

Other six-round bouts include a grudge contest between two Edmonton boys, Ralph Goddard and Jackie Sorenson, and a Billy Green - Jimmy Ego lightweight back trail in a third six-rounder when he meets Sonny Alexman of Boise, Idaho.

Another bonny with the surname of Ormeck trades blows with Jack McLean of Olds, Calgary, and points south in a four-round preliminary of the heavyweight variety. Joe Peppin, the pippin from St. Albert, and Stanley James of Sentomel, Wales, open the show at 8:30 with a middleweight prelim.

Dominion Pin Tourney Saturday

Burns and Company will stage their fifth annual Dominion-wide telegraph bowling tournament at the Rec alleys on Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

The scores at the end of each game will be relayed through immediately to headquarters in Calgary via telegram. As soon as Calgary receives the information it is relayed to all branches competing. Branch offices from Edmonton, Vancouver, Calgary, Regina, Prince Albert, Winnipeg, Fort William, Windsor, and Ottawa are entered this year.

Only one team is entered from each centre. Three men and two women compose each team.

Moose Jaw Upsets Calgary Juniors 3-2

CALGARY, April 1.—(CP)—Moose Jaw Canucks last night outscored the powerful Calgary Buffaloes 3-2 to take the opening game of the best-of-seven Western Canada Junior Hockey semi-final playoff series.

The game played at a fast clip before a crowd of more than 2,000 fans, disappointed the home-town crowd as the Buffs had maintained a good-sized edge over the Canucks in seasonal play. Both teams played in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league and Buffs defeated Canucks for the loop title.

Second game of the series is slated for Calgary Saturday night.

Jack McLeod, Larry Popein and Tom Greig, whose third-period counter broke a 2-2 tie and gave Canucks the victory, scored for Moose Jaw. For Calgary it was Russ Tyrell and Bob Gilhooly.

The teams wound up the first period tied 1-1 and the second deadlocked at 2-2 until Greig's goal decided the contest.

Only six penalties all minors, were handed out in the clean-contested game.

Jack McLeod sent Canucks winging into the lead at the 55-second mark of the game on a passing play with Mellor. The visitors held their margin until Russ Tyrell took Bob Carlson's pass shortly before the halfway mark to tie the score.

The two clubs continued their torrid pace in the middle session with defenceman Bob Gilhooly sending Buffs in front for the first time in the contest at the five-minute mark. This time, however, it was Moose Jaw's turn to come back. Larry Popein counted the goal that sent the two teams into the third period tied 2-2.

Tom Greig gave Canucks the lead for the second time in the game early in the final session and Buffs were never able to get it back.

SUMMARY

First Period—Moose Jaw, McLeod (Mellor); Calgary, Tyrell (Carlson), 9:16. Penalties, Vogan, Smith, McDonald.

Second Period — Calgary, Gilhooly, 8:25. Moose Jaw, Popein (Andrew, Shave) 13:15. Penalties, McDonald, Greig.

Third Period — Moose Jaw, Greig (Perfect), 4:35. Penalty, McLeod.

ANNIS STUKUS, SHOCTOR ON CALGARY JAUNT

Annis (Hot Potato) Stukus and Joe Shoctor of the Edmonton Eskimo football team will motor to Calgary today for the monthly meeting of the Stampeder Quarterback club. They hope to get Coach Les Lear of the Stamps to bring the films of the 1948 Grey Cup final to Edmonton within two weeks for a showing before the Eskimo quarterback club.

It was learned yesterday that the Esks were continuing negotiations with five players in eastern Canada. So far Earl Elsey has been the only player signed by the Edmontonians.

Yanks in 5-5 Tie

LONDON, April 1—(AP)—The touring United States Amateur hockey team last night played a 5-5 tie with Wembley Monarchs. The Americans came from behind after trailing 1-4 at the end of the first period.

Gil Dodds May Go To Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, April 1.—(BUP)—American miler Gil Dodds may be invited to race professionally in Stockholm's Olympic Stadium this summer against Gunder Hagg and Arne Andersson, it was announced yesterday.

Henry Rydahl, a Swedish sports writer is trying to promote such a race which may also include Finland's Ville Heino and France's Marcel Hansenne.

Hagg and Andersson were declared professionals for violation of amateur rules in 1945. Hansenne and Dodds are still amateurs.

However, it was doubtful that the Olympic Stadium would be available for a pro race. Its officials have refused to let Andersson work out there since he lost his amateur standing.

The Y's Men's Club is the Senior Men's Service Club of the Y.M.C.A., and the Annual Radio Auction is to raise funds for boys' activities and help towards maintenance of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Camp Keewaydhin, on Lake Wabamun. Camp Keewaydhin, as it is known, is attended by hundreds of Edmonton boys every summer. The camp affords opportunities for boys to learn co-operation and take part in the many activities essential to growing boys.

Activities at the camp include archery, softball, boating, camp craft, riding, handicrafts, swimming and various other forms of sport and recreation.

The camp is operated under qualified leaders and is always in full swing throughout the school summer holidays.

All merchandise auctioned off at the coming sale is donated by city firms and sold to the highest bidder. People will be informed over the air of the progress of the auction.

Highest bid on each article will be given at intervals, during the program, and after a certain time bidding is cut off and a member of the Y's Men's Club delivers the article immediately.

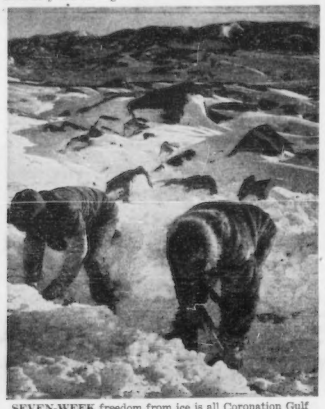
MAN OF THE HOUR, Matt Berry is all decked out in his north equipment as he headed into Canada's Arctic on the hurried race to stake rich lead claim.

RIGORS of the north mean chopping ice for tea water. George Midgley, city mining engineer, and staff photographer Eric Bland are in the process of brewing a warming pot of tea on the shore of Detention Harbor. Midgley, a veteran of more than 15 years mining in the north, is exuberant in his praise of rich Galena vein uncovered by Matt Berry. Although he has staked many claims Midgley says he has never seen anything to compare with the Detention Harbor find.

TRUSTY PILOT of the ancient little Fairchild 71 which made the long trek into the hinterlands of the north is Michael "Mush" Sharun, former Edmonton boy who has been flying the north for nearly five years.

DYNAMITE to blast loose samples from vein is prepared by Midgley and Sharun. Only two sticks were necessary to pry away hundreds of pounds of Galena for assays. Samples run an average of over 85 per cent pure lead with the balance being sulphur. Rich stake is in name of Gateway Golds of Edmonton.



SEVEN-WEEK freedom from ice is all Coronation Gulf enjoys during "summer." Engineer Midgley and Pilot Sharun had little work to do to clear ice from jutting outcrop of Galena prior to laying dynamite charge.

ROYAL WELCOME greeted exploration party on reaching isolated little village of Coppermine, last stop on hectic flight-route into the wilds. Here natives and white people thronged the snow-packed, icy landing strip, all eager to see what the trusty little Fairchild had brought. The aircraft is well known to natives around Coppermine.

COPPERMINE EXPRESS is composed entirely of Huskies, as this young pup. Each native family in village have at least one team of eight dogs. Roman Catholic mission, in background, is operated by three fathers from Oblate Order of Paris, France, and tends to spiritual needs of many of Coppermine's Eskimo families.

PRIZE PHOTO of trip for Eric Bland is this rare shot of a herd of Muskox discovered about 20 minutes flying from lead deposits. Muskox is becoming rare in Canada's Arctic, with only three herds reported still at large. Animal is found mostly in Greenland and Siberia.

CURSORY EXAMINATION of rock beneath Galena lead find is made by Berry and Sharun with their hand drill. Indications showed wealth of other mineral in ... of Gateway's find.

RADIOACTIVITY was also noted by engineer Midgley as he tossed several large outcroppings with his Geiger counter. Extreme cold weather put counter out of action, but not before it had registered high activity.

AND SO the race is over as Sharun (left) and Berry take the Number One post to give Gateway Gold rights over large area believed to contain even larger Galena deposits that those uncovered as yet.

RUBBLE FROM bombed buildings is being used by Soviet forces putting up roadblocks to seal off their sector of Berlin to western Germans. The Russians are also expected to cut the elevated railway, operated by the Russians for the entire city, as a further retaliation for the new currency reform which outlawed the Soviet mark in west Berlin.

Andrew Co-operative Holds Annual Meeting

ANDREW, April 1—Good representation of shareholders attended the recent annual meeting of Andrew Co-operative Association held in the school auditorium. Financial report showed the organization had enjoyed a very successful year.

Ambrose Hennig, president of the association, presided at the meeting. W. A. Hennig is secretary-treasurer.

New directors chosen at the meeting were John Bodnaryk, Charlie Bordian, Ambrose Hennig and Nick A. Melnyk. Peter Hunka's term as director has still another year to run.

Shareholders authorized the installation of self-serving counters in the grocery department, but business is booming a garage was left over for further discussion at a special meeting for that purpose to be called in the near future.

Directorship will be increased to nine instead of five, as at present.

Messrs Metro Todorovich, George Frunchak and William Hamaluk formed a company to be known as Andrew Concrete Works, and machinery is being installed for making concrete blocks for building and well curbings. It will be in operation with the opening of spring activities.

SAME EFFECT HERE TOO

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 1—(AP) — Patrolman James Metzger yesterday was sent home to investigate a report of a man either sleeping or dead in an automobile at Park Avenue and Vick Park.

Metzger's report a short time later: "That man was not dead or asleep, he was filling out his state income-tax report."

Film Council Does Good Work

HIGH PRAIRIE, April 1—Meeting of the High Prairie Film Council was held March 25 with the president, Dr. Nori Nishio acting as chairman. Fine progress was shown in the work and over 1,000 people viewed the films in February. New films now arrive the first of every month and are given free to schools or hospital.

The $10.00 membership fee has been handled in from each of the following organizations — Womens Auxiliary of Canadian Legion, Womens Institute, Greek Catholic Church Board, Peoples Credit Association, Town of High Prairie, Roman Catholic Church.

GEORGE DREW LIBEL SUIT IS WITHDRAWN

TORONTO, April 1.—(AP)— Ontario maintained a "political gestapo" or secret police force, George Drew's $100,000 "gestapo" libel suit against the Toronto Star was withdrawn yesterday.

Mr. Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, started the action in 1945. It arose from editorials in the Star during the 1945 provincial election campaign commenting on claims by E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, that Mr. Drew, then premier of Ontario, maintained a "political gestapo" or secret police force.

A royal commission found the Jolliffe accusations groundless.

At the original trial of Mr. Drew's action, a jury returned a verdict of "no libel" and Mr. Justice D. P. Kelly dismissed the action. Court of appeal ordered a new trial on grounds of misdirection of the trial judge.

ELDERLY VAGRANT GETS SIX-WEEKS

An elderly and crippled Edmonton man, who has been begging outside a downtown department store and who hasn't worked in three months, yesterday was sentenced to six weeks in jail for vagrancy.

After several remands and involved testimony from accused through an interpreter, Magistrate Millar said there was no doubt that Nick Stusiuk, 10456 98 street, had been begging without permission. He had pleaded not guilty.

When arrested, accused had $60 in his possession, including almost $4 in small change.

Calder Bus Service Route Is Compromised

Compromise route for gasoline bus service to Calder was approved by city council last night.

The decision pleased all Calder ... and others concerned, ex... Thomas Foster, transit system superintendent, who was critical of the approximately $5,000 increase in operational expenditures the new route entailed.

NEW ROUTE DETAILED

The new route through the Calder district will be along 127 street to 127 avenue then east to 117 street and north on that street to 129 avenue, then west on that avenue to 127 street and back to the terminus at 118 avenue and 124 street.

Previously it had been proposed by Norman D. Wilson, Toronto traffic expert, and concurred in by the city commissioners, that the Calder route would be along 127 avenue from 127 street to 117 street.

Crafty Clifford Krafts Turns Hobby Into Money

By Pat McVean

Edmontonian Clifford Krafts is doubly appreciative of the bright-colored flowers he carves within blocks of plastic.

Once they provided him with a life-saving hobby.

Today they have become a profitable line of business for him.

Several years ago, after he had undergone a leg operation at Mayo clinic, doctors threatened Mr. Krafts with "get a hobby—or else."

Soon afterwards his brother-in-law told him a leisure time hobby of working with plastics was receiving wide interest in the States.

SLOW START

... When he returned to Edmonton he turned his hobby into a business and with Leslie Lilledahl started the firm Plastic Supplies, at 10025 102 street, the only plastic supply business in Western Canada.

With W.O. Hansen as sales manager, the firm discovered a market for other types of plastic goods—display racks and forms for local stores.

A six-man factory now turns out model forms for blouse displays, must-bar racks for shoe showings, and large size wool and cotton holders for department stores and specialty shops, as well as Mr. Krafts' original designs of lamps and plaques and picture frames.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Wedding Bureau For Edmonton Gals

By Bea Thrifty

Enterprising Edmonton women have been fired with enthusiasm this past little while.

The latest whim has developed in the smartly coiffed head of Muriel Wylie.

She is starting a service bureau, specializing in wedding arrangements. Later Mrs. Wylie expects to branch into shopping for flowers, birthdays, Christmas and the like.

Good idea what!

* * *

This very same idea has been more than successful in various other parts of the world.

Parisian wedding service bureaus have the same prestige as top French designers. New York bridal specialists make fabulous names for themselves . . . and so through the smaller cities.

Now Edmonton will boost of the same service.

* * *

So many girls just haven't the time to attend to flowers, catering, gown selections, attendants' gifts, rehearsals, music, reception details. Wylie has. It's her business to have the time. And she has a wealth of experience to back her. She knows just where and what to do.

So good luck to this smart gal with her new project.

* * *

Spring has settled in Edmonton and next on the agenda is matters pertaining to June weddings.

Busy brides-to-be are shopping, shopping like mad, gathering together a trousseau, linens, lingerie and loads 'n loads of advice.

* * *

Lucky gals these days are happy to see down pillows, sheets, pillow slips selling at greatly reduced prices.

Some pillows are going for as little as $1 per. Others run as high as $17.95.

Sheets, hemstitched and of good quality bleached cotton, are selling for as little as $5.50. For some time we've had to pay a pretty penny more than that for good sheets.

* * *

I spotted some yard goods for 69c per 36-inch wide yard that would be fringed and knotted into splendid luncheon cloths.

* * *

More and more varieties of pottery and novelty dishes are appearing for pleasant sums of money such as $10.50 for a set of 20 pieces.

* * *

A pretty pale beige set with sprayed cherries blossoming at the rim caught my fancy to the tune of $84.50. Another in pale turquoise with a jingle rose for a focal sells at $11.50.

* * *

Oh say. Did you notice the spanking-bright new summer frocks striped material? It's that reliable Lystav that comes in yellow and white, green, red, orange, navy blue, black and cinnamon brown. And what's equally important you pay $1.39 per yard.

Second Child Deserves Special Consideration

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The plight of the younger child in a family is not always given the consideration it deserves. Parents are unaware that the child's position, in the very nature of things, makes life more difficult.

I have in mind two girls. The eldest, Wilmene, has always been a happy, outgoing, sociable and pretty child, modest in her accomplishments.

The younger girl—three years her junior—is also beautiful but is just an average child. But, since she has been old enough to notice, she has been compared with her older sister and to her disparagement.

The two children, because of the similarity in ages, have for the last few years been dealt with as twins. They have the same bedroom, the same bed hour, the same privileges. They are read to conscientiously before bedtime, but always stories which appeal mightily to the older child. Then when the younger gets restless and runs around the room the mother says, "Kathleen has never been as interested in reading as Wilmene has always been."

So also Kathleen has striven valiantly and almost always unsuccessfully, to keep up with her older sister. They live on a secluded street and the only companions the younger child has had previous to going to school, have been her sister's friends.

For so long she has cultivated an attentive appearance and a deaf ear, in order to seem to be enjoying what her sister enjoys, that now in adolescence she is failing. Her deaf ear has become a habit and she makes no effort to listen or to follow directions, or heed the group discipline.

Here is a child whose parents have demanded another Wilmene and evidently ignored this very different child, her different rate of development, her own needs for simple games and stories to which she would be attracted, and her need for praise for herself.

Every child should have the right and privilege to be herself.

Pomade Protects Lips from Winds In March, April

Science has not yet tried to take the sharp edge off the north end of the calendar, turned its efforts to protect a woman's lips from the knifing cuts.

The result is a new lip pomade in a jewel stick which protects lips with a medicated coating. Because one of the main ingredients of the pomade is a painkilling anesthetic the most stubborn cold sore or windcracked lip liquic responds promptly to a thin application.

The use of the stainless and colorless pomade before rouge is applied in no way interferes with the cosmetic appeal of lipstick or alters its bright color.

Cords and Cords

Modern industry uses 1,100 different kinds of cordage, from heavy hawsers on ocean-going vessels to the small twine used to wrap bundles.

Newfoundland Enters Canada Fashion Scene

MONTREAL, April 1. — (CP) Federal union between Canada and Newfoundland entered the women's fashion picture today with announcement of a series of "Newfoundland prints" bearing designs typical of the new province.

The prints, produced in Canadian Bruck mills, were designed by June Hunt, a young Newfoundland artist living in Montreal. Her three designs, reproduced on fine crepe, will appear in piece-goods departments of stores in Canada and Newfoundland Friday.

The three prints, available in a series of color combinations with light and dark grounds, have been built mainly around Newfoundland's fishing industry.

The only deviation from this theme is "caribou," an overall design built around the animal which has been as much a national symbol to Newfoundland as the beaver is to Canada. Added motifs introduce a fisherman's head, compass points and fir trees.

You can reduce your tummy if you'll keep after it. This exercise is one Josephine Lowman recommends.

WHY GROW OLD

Regular Exercises Will Reduce Tummy

By Josephine Lowman

Q. "Please help me! I have tried many exercises for my stomach. It looks like a round ball, and I wish I could [illegible] but it makes me look like I am [illegible]"

A. [illegible] ...s can be obtained. Of course, if you are many pounds overweight, you cannot expect to have a flat tummy with exercise alone but will have to diet. However you should notice some reduction in inches in this situation, if exercise is faithfully done.

[illegible] 35 inches. Please tell me if I am too big and if I am overweight.

A. You could lose a little weight, about eight pounds or a little more, depending on your [illegible] or boney structure. It is especially important to do so in a sane way because you are [illegible]

[illegible] every day, but [illegible], fried foods, [illegible] soda fountain mixtures. Also take waist and hip reducing exercise. You are pretty well proportioned but a little exercise will improve things.

Q. "I am 11 years old, five feet, three and a fourth inches tall. I weigh 116½ pounds and my bust measures 34 inches. [illegible]

A. Don't let your friends fool you. You are not at all overweight for your height but are large for your age. [illegible]

Q. "I would appreciate it if [illegible] 40 inches."

A. You should not lose more than from four to six pounds. Do this by leaving off the extras, candy and soft drinks and dessert and greasy foods. Concentrate on hip exercises.

In today's hand it looked as if declarer would have some trouble [illegible] and still pick up the king of trumps. West made the tricky opening of the four of hearts, which East won with the king. He returned the eight of hearts and when Mr. McLeod in the South played the queen, West won [illegible] by declarer's ace. Mr. McLeod then played the four of diamonds to dummy's king. Silver Jubilee

25 YEARS OF SERVICE TO CANADA

"So much in so short a time" could be taken as a nutshell history of the RCAF, which on April 1st notes its 25th Anniversary, the Silver Jubilee of Canada's youngest fighting Service, which came into being April 1st, 1924.

Since then the RCAF has written in the skies a flaming history of which Canada can well be proud. In war and in peace the RCAF has established a reputation for fighting spirit, operating efficiency, and determination of purpose that is known and respected wherever men fly.

In the days before the Second World War the men of the RCAF flew their tiny machines, flimsy by today's standards, over Canada, keeping in being the nucleus of a Force that was one day to strike mighty blows for Canada and for Democracy. They served Canada in many other ways, helping to develop uncharted areas, flying forestry patrols, always helping to aid aviation throughout the Dominion.

When Hitler struck at Freedom, the tiny Force called upon the cream of Canadian youth, and the call was answered. In 1924 the RCAF had some what over 300 officers and men. In January, 1944, the RCAF was a mighty aerial striking force of 215,000. Forty-eight operational squadrons served overseas. At home the RCAF administered the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, which turned out over 131,000 aircrew, over half of them Canadian.

Now, in peace once again, the RCAF is serving Canada well, building a modern, compact Air Force to be ready to defend Freedom should the need arise. Its gleaming silver planes are a common sight over all the Dominion, not only training as a fighting defence force, but serving Canada in many other ways. Its photo planes are dragging the Northland's secrets into view, its mercy flights are saving lives, and writing new chapters in the aviation annals of our country. It is flying proudly, with the same spirit that flew over Dieppe and over Berlin.

OIL

Imp. Stepouts Are Confirmed

By Don Flach

Locations of two previously announced Imperial step-outs from the Golden Spike discovery have been confirmed. One is on lsd 3 1-52-27w4, two and one-half miles north and one and one-half miles east of discovery. Can-Tex Drilling Company is the contractor and surface casing is now being set. Golden Spike No. 3 has been started on lsd 3-5-52-27w4, two and one-half miles west and the same distance north of discovery. One of the Emsco rigs brought from Norman Wells has just completed rigging on the site.

Imperial Gilbert No. 1 had two successful drillstem tests from the Lower Cretaceous pool east of Woodbend and north of Leduc. In the first test, from 4,237 to 4,247, 300 feet of oil and 90 feet of mud were recovered along with a gas flow at the rate of 60,000 cubic feet a day.

GOOD OIL SHOWING

The second test, taken from the five feet immediately below gave 540 feet of oil, 90 feet of salt water and gas at the rate of 84,000 cubic feet. Well was then reamed and drilled to 4,275 feet and coring was resumed.

Gulf Walter Marr is still having well troubles at 12,254 feet. It is expected that another 100 feet of drilling will take the well into the Madison porous zone.

Bruderheim's North Continental No. 1 gave negative tests from the interval from 3,097 to 3,118 feet.

Second Bon Accord well, that of the Globe, Pacific and Sunray team is being rigged.

Hargal No. 1 is now drilling below 4,186 feet and expects to top the D2 about 5,100 feet early next week. The well will proceed to test the D3 before completion.

First of the Royalite wells on their Redwater field section is approaching the production stage. No. 5-15 has completed drilling at 3,224 feet and tubing has been run to 3,212. Preparations are being made to swab the hole.

CALMAR PLUGGING BACK

Leduc-Calmar No. 1 has completed the additional 200 feet drilled for geological information, apparently without finding the D3 formation. The bottom of the hole is now being plugged and an attempt will be made to get production from the D2. Good porosity and oil indications were encountered in this formation earlier.

Anglo-Home Woodbend No. 1, three miles east of the Schoepp discovery is going back to the D1 where it will test showings obtained there. In a one-hour drillstem test from 6,208 to 6240 feet there was a recovery of 270 feet of salt water.

B.C. Recoveries has run two additional drillstem tests since the first oil showings in the D2 several days ago. Testing from 5,269 to 5,309 feet the tests revealed little in the way of oil or gas. Coring is proceeding. Previous test from 5,233 to 5,251 gave a maximum natural gas flow rate of 200,000 cubic feet daily plus a pipe recovery of 630 feet of oil and 210 feet of oil cut mud in one hour.

WHOLESALE INDEX DROPS

OTTAWA, April 1.—(CP)—Canada's wholesale price index continued to decline during February although it still remained higher than a year ago, the Dominion Bureau of statistics reported yesterday.

The general wholesale index—based on 1926 equalling 100—stood at 158.1 during February. That compared with 159.3 in January this year and 147.3 in February, 1948.

Chicago Grain Stays Lower

CHICAGO, April 1.—(AP)—Grains opened lower on the Board of Trade today and stayed down throughout the session. They did not extend their early losses to any extent and they did not recover much of the lost ground. Trading, active at the start, fell off later in the day.

Soybeans did a little better than grains. Although off at the start, they rallied and at times pushed above the previous closing price short-covering seemed to be the main factor in the rally.

Wheat closed ½-⅞ lower, corn was ½ lower to ⅛ higher, oats were ⅜-½ lower, rye was ⅞ to 1 cent lower, soybeans were ¾ higher.

Closing quotes:

Wheat: May 2.15¼, July 1.90½-⅝, Sept. 1.90⅝, Dec. 1.91¾-⅝.

Corn: May 1.33¼-¼, July 1.32½-⅝, Sept. 1.25⅞, Dec. 1.14⅞.

Oats: May 69⅛-69, July 63¼; Sept. 62¾, Dec. 63¼.

Rye: May 1.26, July 1.26¼.

Soybeans: May 2.17¼-½, July 2.10¼-½.

Cash wheat: None.

Corn: No. 4 yellow 1.23½-34½.

Oats: No. 1 heavy mixed 74¼-½.

Golds Strengthen In Easier Market

Junior Producers Push Ahead; Anglo, Okalta, C and E Weaken

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP)—Golds went against an otherwise easier trend to chalk up small gains in very dull trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials contined their downward move and base metals and western oils weakened slightly. Volume was about 600,000 shares.

Junior gold producers showed gains ranging up to five cents while Kerr Addison made a moderate advance in the senior list. Uranium stocks, which had featured yesterday's session, were largely ignored although Nicholson tended higher.

Papers firmed in an easier industrials.

Base metals dipped on small declines following news that Consolidated Mining and Smelting had reduced its price for lead. Earlier this week United States producers cut their prices.

Western oils continued slipping from recent advances. Anglo-Canadian, Okalta and Calgary and Edmonton were among the losers.

NORTH CONTINENTAL STILL HEAVILY TRADED

CALGARY, April 1.—Prices were slightly off for western oils on Calgary Exchange today and volume was smaller at 110,390. North Continental traded an even 50,000 at 23 to 26½, the closing price being two above yesterday. Anglo-Canadian dropped five to 3.85 in a small sale.

Leduc Calmar moved up a cent to 17½ in sales of 14,000, second highest turnover of the day. Okalta dipped four to 1.86, and Superior remained the same, 42. Decalta was fractionally up at 19. Royalite closed strongly at 6.20, after touching 6.15.

Livestock

Friday's cattle market is winding up firm under light receipts. Run comprised a good percentage of long feed lot steers, which were in active demand. This morning's trading was fully steady with the week's advance, and several loads of good to choice steers sold at 22.00.

Practical top on heifers 19.50, odd fancy quality realized 20.00. Cows unchanged, good butchers 15.00-16.00. Bulls steady at 17.00-18.00. Calves firm, with few on offer, good to choice handyweights 20.00-23.00. Hogs unchanged, grade A for shipment 30.75, grade A at local plants 29.25. Lambs higher, one lot of grained lambs sold at 23.50, good handyweights 21.00-23.00.

Following are the quotations:

Choice fed calves	20.00 to 21.50
Choice steers	21.50 to 22.00
Good steers	20.50 to 21.25
Medium steers	19.50 to 20.50
Common steers	16.50 to 18.50
Choice heifers	18.50 to 19.00
Good heifers	18.00 to 18.50
Medium heifers	17.00 to 18.00
Common heifers	14.00 to 16.00
Good light cows	15.50 to 16.00
Good heavy cows	15.00 to 15.50
Medium cows	14.00 to 15.00

Sheep nil; good lambs $21.50.

Bank Statement

OTTAWA, April 1.—(CP)—Savings on deposit in Canada's chartered banks at Feb. 28 last amounted to $4,159,411,000, against $4,117,934,000 at Jan. 31 and $3,880,547,000 a year ago, the chartered bank statement for February showed yesterday.

Call loans in Canada amounted to $108,095,000 at Feb. 28, as against $90,419,000 at Jan. 31 and $69,990,000 a year ago.

Gasoline Price Reduction Seen

TORONTO, April 1.—(CP)—Possibility of future reductions in the price of gasoline was seen by John Irwin, president of Canadian Oil Companies, Ltd., at yesterday's annual meeting.

He drew attention to recent drops in the prices of heavy fuel and house heating oils, and commented: "Considering the rapid accumulation of gasoline stocks, combined with a shortage of storage capacity . . . it is quite within the bounds of possibility that price reduction may spread to gasoline."

The ultimate benefit to Canada of western oil development is difficult to estimate, Mr. Irwin said. "As more and more oil is discovered in the west, it will have to seek markets that are farther and farther away.

"As this occurs, the forces of competition in these distant markets is bound to drive down prices at the well, which logically should mean minimum costs for petroleum products to the people at home.

"The oil industry now has passed from a condition of shortage to one of plenty," he said.

Car Financing Shows Increase

OTTAWA, April 1—(CP)—Canadians financed more new and used cars during February than either in the preceding month or in February, 1948, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

Total number of vehicles, including both old and new, financed during February was 10,567 as compared with 8,700 a year ago. Financed value was $10,402,316 as against $8,064,368. January figures showed 9,292 vehicles financed at $9,278,742.

First made in England, portland cement was not imported into the United States until 1868.

Coarse Grain Futures Follow U.S. Decline

WINNIPEG, April 1.—(CP)—Oats and barley futures prices moved narrowly but showed an easier tone for most of a dull trading session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. The trend was a reflection of hesitation in Chicago grain prices.

Oats and barley saw a modest expansion in offerings and support was limited to routine buying by shippers. Rye, mostly a commission house trade, received thin support against a small increase in offerings.

The United Kingdom was allocated 150,000 bushels of wheat under Anglo-Canadian export busness.

Gold Production At High Level

OTTAWA, April 1.—(CP)—Gold production in Canada was maintained at a comparatively high level in January, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Output for the month was 308,989 fine ounces compared with 273,366 in January, 1948 for an increase of 13 per cent. The monthly average for 1948 was 294,000 fine ounces.

January figures were higher for all provinces except British Columbia. Largest increase, as in earlier months, was in Ontario and Quebec, while Manitoba, Saskatchewan, North-West Territories and the Yukon reported smaller boosts in output.

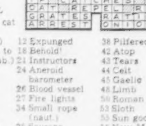
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Welcome to Canada's Tenth Province

On this historic occasion, as the "Oldest Colony" takes its place as the youngest province under Confederation, The Royal Bank of Canada extends greetings to the people of

Newfoundland

Branches of The Royal Bank of Canada are indicated by stars.

Since 1895, The Royal Bank of Canada has been established in this historic Island. Our main branch in the capital has been doing business longer than any other branch outside the Canadian mainland. Today we operate three branches in St. John's, five others in the Island and another at Goose Airport. The knowledge and business relationships built up during more than fifty years in Newfoundland will be devoted to furthering trade between Canada's ten provinces . . . developing to their mutual advantage the economic benefits of political union.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

Over 700 branches throughout Canada's ten provinces—in the West Indies, Central and South America, New York, London and Paris. Head Office Montreal.
